Opposition Parties Crushed As Nation Polls Record Vote

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and his victorious Liberals today moved confidently into another five years as Canada's governing party in the wake of the greatest political triumph in the history of this Dominion.

Monday, with a smashing general election victory that was as breathtaking as it was decisive, they captured 193 of the 262 seats in the new House of Commons to command an unprecedented parliamentary majority of 124 votes.

Putting "1949" into an impressive roll of Liberal election victories over the last 14 years—1935, 1940, 1945 and 1949—they reduced the Socialistic C.C.F. to minor-party status and crushed the hopes of George Drew's Progressive Conservatives that they might this time regain the federal power they lost in 1935.

Early today, when the final votes were counted and the last seat won and lost, the party standing fell into this Liberal-dominant pattern:

CONTRAST SEEN

By contrast, this was the standing after the 1945 election for a 245-seat House:

Liberals, 118; Progressive Conservatives, 66; C.C.F., 28; Social Credit, 13; Independents, eight; Independent-Liberal, seven; others, five.

As Canadians voted in record numbers, the government rolled up roughly 50 per cent of the popular vote, with the Progressive Conservative total just over

Other election news, pages 6, 7 and 11.

30 per cent and the C.C.F. between 13 and 14 per cent.

Only in Alberta, where the Social Crediters have held provincial power since 1935, did the Liberals fail to emerge as the dominant federal party. But, even there, they reduced the Social Credit holding—from 13 to 10—as they won five seats. The Progressive Conservatives retained two.

Elsewhere across the land, the Liberals were unbeatable.

They trimmed the C.C.F. decisively on its own ground—in Saskatchewan. There, where the C.C.F. held 18 seats in the last House, the Liberals drove them out of 13 to raise their own riding-total to 15, leaving the C.C.F. with four and the Progressive Conservatives with one.

It was the first time in any election since it entered the federal field in 1935 that the C.C.F. failed to improve its standing.

With Green Light Flashed, Premier Summons Cabinet

OTTAWA (CP)—A wide field of potential action, ranging from broadened social security to acceptance of international obligations, opened up today in the wake of the sweeping election victory for the Liberal government.

A cabinet meeting was slated for tomorrow afternoon as Prime Minister St. Laurent prepared to return to Ottawa from Quebec City. Thousands of civil servants began to look forward to a session of the new Parliament that is expected to begin in late September.

It will, among other things, approve the budget presented this spring. Its tax cuts are already in effect.

SOCIAL SECURITY

As the results were studied, there were numerous avenues of speculation, but the field of social security was particularly affected by the mandate given Liberal policies and the rebuff given George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader and the man who, as Premier of Ontario, was one of the two main stumbling blocks to acceptance of federal proposals at the Dominion-Provincial Conference in 1946.

The other was Premier Duplessis of Quebec, a province where the Liberals won a tremendous victory.

It is probable there will be new attempts to reach a complete Dominion-Provincial agreement to allow the government to effect its plans of continental health insurance schemes. Ottawa now has individual fiscal agreements with seven provinces.

Other fields: Cabinet—Mr. St. Laurent will probably send some of the cabinet members to the Senate, others to the bench or diplomatic corps, and will probably expand its size. More parliamentary assistants may be named, too. Toronto will get cabinet representation for the first time in some years.

International—Obligations of the Atlantic Pact will take shape within coming months. Any mention of them was avoided in the campaign.

TO AMEND CONSTITUTION

Autonomy—Steps to abolish appeals to the Privy Council and to allow Canada to amend her own constitution are in the offing as the final steps towards full sovereignty.

Senate—With 14 vacancies, Mr. St. Laurent will make some appointments, but there will probably be a move of some sort to revamp the method of appointment and possibly to impose an age limit as an answer to an overwhelming Liberal majority.

Mr. St. Laurent told reporters before the election he planned to be in Ottawa for a few days on his return. Then he and his wife have planned a vacation near Bathurst, N.B.

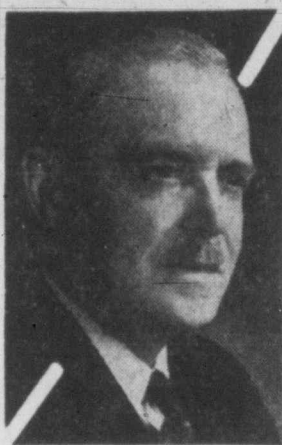

Baby Sitter Charged

HAMMOND, In. (AP)—A 14-year-old baby sitter was accused today of putting a set of twins into bath water so hot that 18-month-old Carol Gola died. The baby girl's brother, Robert, was in critical condition. Police declined to say whether the unnamed baby sitter will be prosecuted.

England Swelters

LONDON (UP)—England is sweltering in a heat wave. The temperature reached 89 at Southend on the East Coast Monday. London recorded a maximum of 86.

PRIME MINISTER ST. LAURENT

Mayhew Planning To Return Shortly To Federal Capital

Fisheries Minister Mayhew, re-elected by Victoria Monday by a huge majority, said today he will return to Ottawa shortly to resume his duties as a federal cabinet minister.

Early in the day he said he had not been informed of the proposed meeting Wednesday of the federal cabinet but he said he would try to fly east if the meeting was to be an important one. Otherwise he probably will stay in Victoria a few days before returning to Ottawa.

Today Mr. Mayhew expressed pleasure at the extension of B.C.'s representation in the government, not only geographically but also by professions of the members of Commons.

"My aim during a trip through B.C. was to get the outlying districts represented in the government," he said. "We had had no representative in the north country, none in the Kootenays and none in the Okanagan. All these areas now are represented."

Mr. Mayhew also said that the B.C. representation in the government now will be extended professionally with the addition of representatives of labor and business.

He expressed particular pleasure that J. A. Byrne, the Liberal standard-bearer in Kootenay East, had been elected since he represented labor. Swelling the business representation of B.C. in the government will be T. Goode, successful Liberal candidate in Burnaby-Richmond, and Arthur Laing, former B.C. Liberal Association president, who was successful in Vancouver South.

In G. M. Murray, the successful Liberal candidate in Cariboo, B.C. not only will have a representative of the north country but of the newspaper profession, he noted.

Cooler In East U.S. Today; Hot Tomorrow

NEW YORK (UP)—The east coast of the United States experienced its first day of cool weather in three weeks today, but forecasters said no relief was in sight for the drought which has parched crops for 35 days.

A mass of cold air from New England slashed temperatures 10 degrees in three minutes in New York Monday night. Sweltering city residents who went to bed perspiring reached for blankets when the temperature fell to 64 degrees from a high Monday of 89.

However, the weather bureau said the cool weather would only last throughout today and that the temperature would climb back toward a record again tomorrow.

Britain May Draw More Freely On Loan From Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The government likely will decide tomorrow at its first post-election cabinet meeting whether to send Finance Minister Abbott to London to attend Commonwealth economic and financial discussions early in July.

A government source today said the decision would depend on what Canada considered she would be able to accomplish at the discussions.

He confirmed a London report that all the finance ministers of the Commonwealth have been asked to attend the emergency talks to discuss the United Kingdom's deepening economic crisis.

"The problem is mostly one which concerns the sterling area," the source said. "It is one which Canada can do little about, since it deals with the shortage of dollars—both Canadian and United States."

There had been suggestions, he indicated, that Canada might speed up the U.K.'s withdrawals on the Anglo-Canadian loan. Canada has allowed Britain to withdraw at the rate of $10,000,000 a month on the $235,000,000 part of the loan frozen in November, 1947, when Canada's own dollar holdings began to decline.

"But even that would not help very much. The loan soon would run out and the U.K. would find herself in the same position she is in now."

Courts-Martial Of High Navy Officers Open Today

HALIFAX (CP)—Separate courts-martial of two senior Canadian naval officers opened here today. The hearings arose from the grounding of the aircraft carrier Magnificent off southwest Nova Scotia June 4.

The officers are Commodore G. R. (Gus) Miles, O.B.E., of Rotherham, N.B., and Lt.-Cmdr. W. D. F. Johnston, native of Barnstead, Surrey, England.

Each officer faces four similar charges. Commodore Miles was the Magnificent's commanding officer when the Canadian capital ship grounded on what an officer aboard the flat-top called a "submerged uncharted rock" off White Point Beach, 70 miles from Halifax. Cmdr. Johnston was the carrier's navigating officer.

The charges were released in Halifax Monday by a naval court of inquiry. They said the officers

Negligently or by default stranded or hazarded or suffered to be stranded or hazarded H.M.C.S. Magnificent.

While Commodore Miles appeared today, the hearing of Cmdr. Johnston was scheduled for tomorrow.

The Magnificent, now in dry dock at Saint John, N.B., ran aground while on exercises with the destroyers Nootka and Haida. The 18,000-ton carrier limped into Halifax with a reported 200 feet of her bottom ripped by the impact.

Anonymous London Dock Worker Talks Mates Back To Work

LONDON (UP)—An Anonymous longshoreman today talked 2,000 of his striking comrades into deciding to go back to work at London's Royal Docks. Four thousand other strikers in southeast ports are expected to follow suit.

Nobody knew who the longshoreman was. But in five minutes he did what the best brains in the government and union leaders had failed to do.

Sweat pouring from his face in the hot early morning sunlight, the man jumped on a little mound at an open-air meeting of the dock strikers and shouted: "I'm just one of the rank and file. I've been at the back with the rest of you, and I'm getting tired of all this."

GREATA SURPRISED

The dockers, who had walked out Monday in sympathy with other longshoremen who refused to unload the Canadian vessel Beaverbrae, stared in amazement.

He proposed that the strikers vote to go back to work, but blacklisted Canadian boats. "Then if the governors decide to 'lock us out, we can say to them, 'You've caused the strike.'"

When he sat down, the 2,000 strikers voted to return to work tomorrow and, as he suggested, blacklisted the Canadian vessels. They delayed their return until tomorrow to give strikers at other docks time to take similar action.

Waterspouts Fatal

MANILA (AP)—Press reports said today two waterspouts had killed a nine-year-old girl and injured nine persons on Bantayan Island, north of Cebu in the Central Philippines. Five houses were reported down and a fishing launch picked up from its mooring.

The Mayhews And Their Victory Smile

Island Voters Resist Tendency For Change, Return 3 Members

Vancouver Island electors resisted all tendency for a change at the federal election polls Monday. They returned the three members who had represented them in the 20th Parliament.

In Victoria Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, who has held the seat since 1937, won hands down over his Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. opponents. He piled up a 3,783-vote overall majority. Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive Conservative, polling 10,060 votes, and William Caird, C.C.F., 4,820, compared to Mr. Mayhew's 18,863.

Mr. Caird will lose his deposit, having failed to poll half the votes of the winning candidate. Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Progressive Conservative, first elected in his first bid for a House of Commons seat in 1945, also won hands down. He polled

In Comox-Alberni, Independent J. L. Gibson won with 9,987 votes over his only opponent, J. H. Cameron, C.C.F. Mr. Cameron polled 6,780 votes.

Elsewhere in British Columbia the electors effected several changes in their representatives. The Liberals, who at the dissolution of the House of Commons held only four seats, won no less than 11, following the trend of voters throughout the nation.

The B.C. standing at dissolution was: Liberals four, Progressive Conservatives four, C.C.F. seven, Independent one.

The B.C. standing now will be Liberals 11, Progressive Conservatives three, C.C.F. three, Independent one.

In re-electing Mr. Mayhew, the electors retained the only B.C. representative in the federal cabinet.

The two B.C. parliamentary assistants to federal cabinet ministers, James Sinclair, assistant to Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, and Tom Reid, assistant to National Health and Welfare Minister Paul Martin, were also re-elected.

The Liberals won no less than six seats from their opponents, taking Cariboo, Kootenay East, Skeena and Vancouver centre from the C.C.F., and Vancouver Burrard and Vancouver South from the Progressive Conservatives.

Romanian Prelates Held In New Anti-Church Move

VATICAN CITY (UP)—The Communist government of Romania has arrested an archbishop and bishop of the Roman Catholic Church, the official Vatican press bulletin reported today.

The Vatican said Archbishop Aaron Marton of Alba-Giulia was arrested June 21, and Bishop Antoniu Durcovici of Iasi was taken into custody Sunday.

They were the only two prelates of the Latin rite recognized by the Romanian government after its crackdown on church activity last October.

At that time all bishops of the Greek Catholic Rite were arrested and three bishops of the Latin Rite were deported. Decrees by the Communist government of Czechoslovakia which purported to invalidate communications of the Roman Catholic Church were described by Vatican sources today as "absurd and ridiculous."

Authoritative sources said a reinstitution of laws passed by the Hapsburg monarchy to meet current circumstances in the church-state struggle in Czechoslovakia displayed complete ignorance of religious matters.

"The state cannot pass decrees or make laws regulating spiritual affairs of the church," one source said.

No Women Left In House Of Commons: Record Since 1921

By CANADIAN PRESS
For the first time since Agnes MacPhail startled political diehards by winning Grey-Bruce in 1921, the House of Commons will lack the feminine touch.

The single representative of her sex in the last House, Mrs. Gladys Strum, C.C.F. member for Qu'Appelle, Sask., went down before the Liberal onslaught in Monday's election, and not one of 14 other women aspirants could make the grade.

Several made a fight of it. Mrs. Strum, who lost to Liberal Austin Dewar stayed close to the winner in early returns and finished 1,500 votes behind.

Even closer was Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, another C.C.F. standard-bearer, in the British Columbia constituency of Burnaby-Richmond. One of the last seats to be decided, it finally went to Liberal T. Goode by a scant 327 votes.

Triumphant Liberals Plan Broad Action

West Europe Has Eyes On U.S. 'Slump'

By WILLIAM H. RICHARDSON

LONDON (UP)—Financial experts in the European nations which depend on the Marshall Plan for their recovery agreed today that a further slump in the United States would spell disaster for the economy of the entire world.

But a survey showed they were divided on whether the current American recession was the "normal end of a wartime boom" or the prelude to a serious crash.

Those who painted a bleak picture foresaw an abrupt end of Marshall aid. Those who believed it was a minor recession said they thought the dollar would remain as strong as ever. Country-by-country, this is what they said:

Switzerland—In the economic crossroads of Europe, businessmen and bankers take a serious view of the drop in American employment. One leading economist said the people of the U.S.

were inclined to think only of their own inner economy in dealing with the recession but should remember the big "responsibility" they have toward the Marshall plan nations.

France—Pierre Mendes, French delegate to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, said the present recession in the States "has no comparison with the 1929 crash." It is more like the 1921 recession, he said.

Changes In Prices Big Factor

Paul Reynaud, former Premier and financial specialist, also maintained there was no resemblance between 1929 and the present decline, but added:

"I am afraid that the consequences of the readjustment of prices in the United States will be heavier for Europeans than for the Americans because exports to the dollar zone, which are for Europe a vital necessity, will be dangerously hit by the decreases of buying in the United States."

Italy—Foreign Minister Ivan Lombardo, former New York businessman, said, "I do not believe in an American crisis or slump because there is no economic reason, no financial reason and no banking reason."

Czechoslovakia—All newspapers in Czechoslovakia and elsewhere in eastern Europe have been saying the U.S. economy was on the verge of collapse. A sample headline of the past week:

"The land of plenty with five million unemployed... an economic crisis is approaching."

Austria—Julius Raab, former Trade Minister and current Chamber of Commerce president, said he was not worried about the recession, but added:

"Any real depression in America probably would mean the end of the Marshall Plan, which in turn would practically mean the end of Austria."

Charts Canada's Course For Next Five Years

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, with Mrs. St. Laurent, is shown in his home at 238 Grande Allee, Quebec City, from where Monday night he broadcast his thanks to the Canadian people for their overwhelming support of his party at the polls. The victory was a great personal tribute to Mr. St. Laurent, who, with his wife, covered the entire nation in his campaign. He led the Liberals to the greatest political victory in Canadian history and piled up for himself the largest plurality of any candidate. Mr. St. Laurent, who only last Nov. 15 became leader of the Liberal Party, is the first family man to lead a party to victory in the last 25 years.

Cripps Faces Tough Task

LONDON (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, veteran of many international conferences, faces one of his toughest struggles of his career Wednesday when he resumes talks on European trade in Paris.

For the last few weeks, the Chancellor of the Exchequer has been under increasing pressure to accept in some form or another a Belgian plan for handling international credits in western Europe.

Sir Stafford has stubbornly refused on the grounds that the scheme would impose a disastrous drain on Britain's reserves of gold and dollars, already considered below the safety level.

The situation concerns Canada because:

1. The system Sir Stafford wishes to maintain is part of Britain's bilateral trading policy which Canadians have criticized as restricting the free flow of trade.

2. Anything that affects Britain's dollar position is of interest to Canada. If the situation worsens, there may be a further cut in dollar imports, including those from Canada.

Stock Rally Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—A rally in the stock market died on its feet today as prices dropped as much as $2 a share. Steel, railroad, television and radio shares were particularly hard hit.

Reject Lewis' Bid

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UP)—Soft coal operators representing the bulk of the industry in the U.S. voted unanimously today to reject John L. Lewis' proposal for a temporary three-day work week in the mines.

Soviet Red Fleet Talks Of Western Union Naval Plans

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet navy organ Red Fleet declared today the forthcoming Western Union navy manoeuvres aren't so innocent as they seem.

They are part of the Anglo-American scheme to dominate western Europe, take control of Scandinavia and prepare for an aggressive war, Red Fleet said.

The navy organ noted that the manoeuvres are under the direction of a British admiral, Sir Roderick MacGregor, whose English language orders automatically are translatable into French and Flemish.

That, said Red Fleet, is to accustom the navy men of many nations to take orders in only one language—that of the Anglo-American imperialists.

But the most important idea, it said, is to "implant the idea in France, Belgium, Holland and other countries binding their fate to the Anglo-American bloc, to entirely subordinate their whole system of naval defence and communications to the British fleet."

According to Red Fleet, the Anglo-American "rulers" intend to persuade Norway, Sweden and Denmark to concentrate all their efforts on land forces to insure Anglo-American domination of the western waters.

The recent visit of the British fleet to Sweden, Red Fleet said, was designed to show Britain was prepared to take care of Sweden at sea if that country would build up its army and armaments.

The article quoted Dutch and Belgian papers that secret negotiations were under way for organization of a permanent north Atlantic defence commission headquarters in Washington.

Magnificent Captain Faces Court-Martial

HALIFAX (CP)—The commanding officer of the aircraft carrier Magnificent went before a naval court-martial today to answer charges that he "negligently or by default" stranded the big carrier.

Nine witnesses were called at the hearing of Commodore G. R. (Gus) Miles of Rothesay, N.B. To face similar charges at another hearing tomorrow is Lt. Cmdr. W. D. F. Johnston, native of Burnaby, Surrey, Eng., the carrier's navigating officer.

Witnesses today established that the 18,000-ton carrier was steaming at 12 knots when she grounded off the south shore of Nova Scotia June 4.

Each officer faces four similar charges. The ship grounded on what an officer board the flat-top called a "submerged, uncharted rock" off White Point Beach, 70 miles from Halifax.

The charges were released in Halifax Monday by a naval court of inquiry. They said the officers:

Belgian Elections Favor Social Christian Party

BRUSSELS (UP)—The Social Christian (Catholic) Party won an absolute majority in the Belgian Senate and missed by a majority in the Chamber of Deputies by only two seats, latest returns from Sunday's general election showed today.

But it was extremely doubtful that even this showing was strong enough to bring exiled King Leopold back to the throne, the issue on which the Catholics based their campaign.

Emphasizing that its returns were unofficial—many came by telephone and telegram—the Ministry of the Interior gave this breakdown for the Chamber of Deputies:

Catholics 105 seats, a gain of 13 over the 1946 election; Socialists 66, a loss of three; Liberals 29, a gain of 12; Communists 12, a loss of 11.

In the Senate, the Catholics won 54 seats, a gain of three; Socialists 33, a loss of one; Liberals 14, a gain of nine; Communists five, a loss of six.

Provincial councils will elect another 43 senators later this week.

Premier Calls Cabinet Meeting Tomorrow; May Convene House In Fall

Aussies Ban Aid In Strike

CANBERRA, Australia (UP)—The government moved today to prevent other labor unions from giving financial support to Australia's 23,000 striking coal miners.

Deputy Premier Herbert V. Evatt told the House of Representatives that the government would introduce a bill forbidding any organization registered with the national arbitration court to give money to the strikers.

The Communist-led walkout began Monday. With power and coal already rationed, the strike research service, an authoritative statistical agency, predicted that Australian unemployment would reach 500,000 by the end of the week.

First P.G.E. Extension Job Let For $634,029

First contract in the $10,000,000 extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel into Prince George was awarded today.

Premier Byron Johnson announced Campbell Bennett Ltd. was the successful bidder of three companies which tendered on the job of grading and clearing a 14-mile section of the extension.

The section is from Quesnel to Cottonwood River and the contract price is $634,029.

Premier Johnson said tenders would be called in the next two weeks for the second contract in the project.

This will be for grading and clearing of six miles from Cottonwood River to Abau Creek.

Work on the first section will be started immediately. The Premier said. Contract calls for the job to be completed by Dec. 31.

The contract includes clearing a bridge site at Cottonwood River in preparation for one of the major jobs of the project. The bridge, to be designed when footing and foundation details have been learned, will be 400 feet long. Route of the extension was changed to give rock foundations. A canyon will be spanned.

Two other companies which tendered on the 14-mile stretch were Jamieson Construction Co. and the Northern Construction Co. jointly with the J. W. Stewart Construction Co.

Work on the first section will be started immediately. The Premier said. Contract calls for the job to be completed by Dec. 31.

U.S. Glad Anglo-Argentine Trade Pact Plan Flexible

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has expressed gratification over the flexibility of the final terms of the British-Argentine five-year trade agreement. But it is still withholding its approval of the pact it once vigorously opposed.

The State Department said this country will "discuss periodically with the United Kingdom the nature of actual operations under the act."

The statement said that during the Anglo-Argentine negotiations, State Department officials held a number of discussions with both signatories. During these sessions, both the circumstances of the proposed trade agreement and its terms "were fully explored."

"On studying the final terms," the statement said, "the department is gratified to observe that substantially more flexibility is incorporated in its provisions than had at first been informally reported."

Opposition Parties Crushed As Nation Polls Record Vote

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and his victorious Liberals today moved confidently into another five years as Canada's governing party in the wake of the greatest political triumph in the history of this Dominion.

Monday, with a smashing general election victory that was as breathtaking as it was decisive, they captured 193 of the 262 seats in the new House of Commons to command an unprecedented parliamentary majority of 124 votes.

Putting "1949" into an impressive roll of Liberal election victories over the last 14 years—1935, 1940, 1945 and 1949—they reduced the Socialistic C.C.F. to minor-party status and crushed the hopes of George Drew's Progressive Conservatives that they might this time regain the federal power they lost in 1935.

Early today, when the final votes were counted and the last seat won and lost, the party standing fell into this Liberal-dominant pattern:

CONTRAST SEEN

By contrast, this was the standing after the 1945 election for a 245-seat House:

Liberals, 118; Progressive Conservatives, 66; C.C.F., 28; Social Credit, 13; Independents, eight; Independent-Liberals, seven; others, five.

Only in Alberta, where the Social Crediters have held provincial power since 1935, did the Liberals fail to emerge as the dominant federal party. But, even there, they reduced the Social Credit holding—from 13 to 10—as they won five seats. The Progressive Conservatives retained two.

Elsewhere across the land the Liberals were unbeatable.

They trimmed the C.C.F. decisively on its own ground—in Saskatchewan. There, where the C.C.F. held 18 seats in the last House, the Liberals drove them out of 13 to raise their own riding total to 15, leaving the C.C.F. with four and the Progressive Conservatives with one.

Quebec Lays Foundation Of Native Son's Big Triumph

But it was old Quebec, the traditional Liberal stronghold, that built the foundation for the government victory.

The old province rejected the bid of the Progressive Conservatives, who had the support of Premier Maurice Duplessis' Union Nationale government, and voted for its native son—Louis Stephen St. Laurent—electing Liberals in 68 of the province's 73 seats. The Progressive Conservatives won two ridings and Independents took the other three.

Traditionally Conservative Ontario produced perhaps one of the most surprising upsets of the election. It gave the Liberals 56 seats where they had held only 34 before and cut the Progressive-Conservative strength from 48 to 25. One riding went C.C.F.; another Independent-Liberal.

The story was pretty much the same across the country.

Newfoundland, the virgin political territory which was voting in a Dominion election for the first time, elected five Liberals and two Progressive Conservatives; Prince Edward Island three Liberals and one Progressive Conservative; New Brunswick eight Liberals and two Progressive Conservatives and Nova Scotia nine Liberals, three Pro-

Urge Imperial War Veterans To Sign Survey Forms Here

Are you an Imperial war veteran? Those who are should immediately register with the local branches of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L.

This is in line with a Dominion-wide survey being conducted by the legion to find out the number of Imperial veterans and widows of Imperial veterans now living in Canada.

The legion is campaigning to have veterans who served in active theatres of war, but did not live in Canada prior to enlistment, placed on the list of those eligible for the War Veterans' Allowances. This extension is also being sought for Imperial veterans' widows.

To date the response to the survey locally has been poor. Only 350 have registered and legion officials believe there are a great many more in the area.

It is pointed out that applicants do not have to have lived in Canada for 20 years or more. Survey is also for those who have been residents of the Dominion for a shorter period "and likely to remain."

gressive Conservatives and one C.C.F.

Manitoba and British Columbia also were top-heavy with Liberals. Manitoba elected 12 government supporters, three C.C.F. and one Progressive Conservative and British Columbia returned 11 Liberals, three Progressive Conservatives, three C.C.F. and one Independent.

Far-northern Yukon-Mackenzie constituency, Progressive Conservative in the last House, went Liberal. No Progressive Conservative ran there.

All the four major party leaders—Mr. St. Laurent, Mr. Drew, C.C.F. leader M. J. Coldwell and Social Credit leader Solon Low—came through with personal victories in their home ridings.

Mr. St. Laurent's 19 cabinet ministers and their parliamentary assistants also were returned along with Hon. Gaspard Fauteux, Speaker of the last Commons. By tradition, a new Speaker will be appointed for the new, 21st Parliament, now expected to open sometime in the early fall.

Tim Buck, the pint-size Communist leader, and all of his 17 Labor-Progressive Party candidates were defeated.

Only one of the many Liberal members of the last chamber who ran in this election was defeated, but a number of former Progressive Conservative members fell by the wayside, a few of them members of some years standing. The defeated Liberal was E. O. Bertrand, who lost to an Independent-Liberal in Prescott.

One of the defeated Progressive Conservatives was John Bracken, the one-time Manitoba premier who took over the leadership of the Progressive Conservatives in 1942, when they held

Funeral Rites Held For Miss Isla Tuck

Rev. Frederick Pike conducted funeral services Monday at Christ Church Cathedral for Miss Isla Tuck, veteran school teacher and school board trustee, who died here suddenly Friday following an operation.

Many mourners, including principles and school teachers of Greater Victoria who had known Miss Tuck for many years, attended the service.

The following were honorary pallbearers as a large congregation paid last respects to the popular educator: Dr. F. T. Fairley, deputy minister of education; H. L. Campbell, chief inspector of schools; Major R. H. Green, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board; Dr. H. H. MacKenzie, New Westminster; H. D. Dee, president of the B.C. Teachers' Federation; and L. Hardie, president of the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association.

Hon. R. W. Mayhew, federal Minister of Fisheries, was represented by F. M. McGregor.

Pallbearers were T. S. Flynn, R. Kirk-Owen, P. J. R. Oliver, T. Christie, J. F. K. English and Denis Brown.

Cremation was at Royal Oak.

only 39 seats, and guided them to victory in 66 ridings in the 1945 vote. He was defeated by a Liberal in the Manitoba riding of Brandon.

The Social Credit losses were bean-pole Walter Kuhl, in Jasper-Edson and colorful, wise-cracking Pat Ashby, who ran in Edmonton West as an Independent-Social Crediter after splitting with the official organization.

Camillien Houde, the broad-shouldered, flamboyant Mayor of Montreal, won Montreal Papineau, a new seat, in his third bid for election to the Commons. Running as an Independent, he defeated three other candidates.

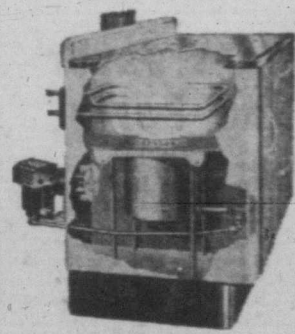

In Ontario, J. W. Noseworthy, the C.C.F.er who won a 1942 by-election in York South, defeating Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen only to be trounced himself in 1945, came back again in the same riding.

Baby Elephants Will Star In Circus Coming To Town

Self-styled star of the circus is "Little Butch," smallest baby elephant in North America.

Favorites of old and young alike across the continent are the baby elephants with the mammoth Dailey Brothers Five-ring Railroad Circus coming to Victoria for afternoon and evening performances at 3 and 8 on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Lots of young Canadians have seen large elephants, but nobody under 25 or 30 years of age ever saw such small ones in this country as are on exhibition in the wild animal menagerie of Dailey Brothers.

Only a few elephants have been born in captivity and none ever lived as long as a year. The Dailey Brothers Circus infant elephants were all imported from India, and last year the veteran zoological expert, Louis Reed, brought with the most recent shipment the tiniest elephant now on exhibition in this country.

Having completed one season with the circus this little baby is easily credited with being the biggest and yet smallest circus feature in North America.

There are 25 elephants in all with the world's only five-ring circus and these massive mastodons have a big part in the daily routine of circus life.

Their bulk is used to move the show and are particularly helpful in bad weather when rain turns many a showground into a sea of mud. The performance is also heavily dependent upon these rubber-colored giants as they astonish thousands with their grace and poise, waltzing and whirling in their own novel ballet.

The circus also brings with it scores of trained wild animals; more than 150 fine horses and ponies; a huge wild animal menagerie; a multitude of international kings and queens of acrobatic and equestrian achievement; cowboys and Indians, featuring Doug Autry, singing star of stage and radio, and a distinguished circus band.

RETURNED—Unopposed by either Liberals or Progressive Conservatives, J. L. Gibson, Independent, won handily in Comox-Alberni. He was first elected in 1945, and is apparently out to maintain the record of his predecessor, A. W. Neill, Independent, who held the seat for many years.

Equality Of Opportunity For All Aim Of Liberals—St. Laurent

By CANADIAN PRESS
"I am naturally delighted at the result of my first general election as national leader of the Liberal Party," Prime Minister St. Laurent told Canadians in a broadcast from Quebec City Monday night as the election returns rolled in.

"The decisive verdict you have rendered will strengthen the government in carrying out the program we laid before you during the election campaign."

"We shall continue to strive resolutely for peace and prosperity, and for the fundamental aim of the Liberal Party—which is to ensure to all Canadians, in every province, of every race and creed and class, and of all political parties, the closest possible approach to equality of opportunity and to a fair share of the bounties with which providence has endowed our favored land."

DREW SPEAKS

At Ottawa George Drew called on Progressive Conservative supporters to start "building immediately for the future."

He said the Liberals had been returned by a "decisive majority" but "we will start immediately to build a strong party for the service of our country."

Mr. Drew said the Progressive Conservatives would support the Liberals "in everything they do which is to the advantage of our people and our country. We will oppose everything that should be opposed."

"The Progressive Conservative party has a great role to play in the future as it has in the past."

POSITION OF C.C.F.

At Biggar, Sask., M. J. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader, said his party, while lost in the Liberal sweep, would continue to fight for the policies in which it believes.

"The C.C.F. has not made the substantial gains we hoped for, but I believe we have consolidated our support upon a solid foundation of intelligent co-operation for the building of a better Canada," Mr. Coldwell said.

OFFER CONGRATULATIONS

From Ottawa Canadian labor union leaders congratulated the Liberal Party and its leader, Prime Minister St. Laurent, on the election victory.

Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, expressed satisfaction with the result, adding that "as we have in the past, we will co-operate with the government." He extended the T.L.C.'s "congratulations to the Prime Minister on the victory he has won."

C.C.L. STATEMENT

OTTAWA (CP)—A "repudiation of reaction" as represented by the Progressive Conservative Party, rather than a "repudiation of the principles of the C.C.F.," was the way the Canadian Congress of Labor today summed up the swing of Monday's election.

In a statement issued from C.C.L. headquarters, president A. R. Mosher and secretary-treasurer Pat Conroy said "the Congress does not in any way regard the results of the federal election as a repudiation of the principles of the C.C.F."

The statement continued: "It is evident that a great many voters, in their anxiety to avoid any possibility of electing a government father to the right than that provided by the Liberal Party, voted for Liberal candidates rather than for those of the C.C.F."

"They were, afraid that the C.C.F. could not obtain sufficient support to form a government, and in spite of their desire to endorse the principles and policies of the C.C.F., they felt that the chief objective in the election was to defeat George Drew and his party in the most decisive manner possible."

John G. Allison, 1679 McRae Avenue, was remanded to the regular Thursday afternoon court session without plea when he appeared at a special sitting of Saanich police court Monday and was charged with being intoxicated while in control of a car. Charge arose from an accident he was involved in at Marine Drive and Sayward Road Saturday night. Counsel is James J. Proudfoot.

The Mayhews And Their Victory Smile

Vancouver Island electors resisted all tendency for a change at the federal election polls Monday. They returned the three members who had represented them in the 20th Parliament.

In Victoria Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, who has held the seat since 1937, won hands down his Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. opponents. He piled up a 3,783-vote overall majority. Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive Conservative, polling 10,060 votes, and William Caird, C.C.F., 4,820, compared to Mr. Mayhew's 18,663.

Mr. Caird will lose his deposit, having failed to poll half the votes of the winning candidate. Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Progressive Conservative, first elected in his first bid for a House of Commons seat in 1945, also won hands down. He polled

In Comox-Alberni, Independent J. L. Gibson won with 9,987 votes over his only opponent, J. H. Cameron, C.C.F. Mr. Cameron polled 6,780 votes.

Elsewhere in British Columbia the "electors effected several changes in their representatives. The Liberals, who at the dissolution of the House of Commons held only four seats, won no less than 11, following the trend of voters throughout the nation.

The B.C. standing at dissolution was: Liberals four, Progressive Conservatives four, C.C.F. seven, Independent one.

The B.C. standing now will be Liberals 11, Progressive Conservatives three, C.C.F. three, Independent one.

In re-electing Mr. Mayhew, the electors retained the only B.C. representative in the federal cabinet.

The two B.C. parliamentary assistants to federal cabinet ministers, James Sinclair, assistant to Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, and Tom Reid, assistant to National Health and Welfare Minister Paul Martin, were also re-elected.

The Liberals won no less than six seats from their opponents, taking Cariboo, Kootenay East, Skeena and Vancouver centre from the C.C.F., and Vancouver Burrard and Vancouver South from the Progressive Conservatives.

Victory Shows Liberals In Tune With Times, Says B.C. Premier

The Liberal victory across Canada Monday shows the people are determined to develop Canada along traditional lines of free enterprise and that the Liberal Party and its government are in tune with the time, Premier Byron Johnson said today.

The Liberal chief of British Columbia's Liberal-Progressive Conservative Coalition administration, issued the following statement:

"The overwhelming support accorded the federal administration at the polls is a really great victory for the Liberal Party, since it constitutes an endorsement of the record of the Liberal government as well as a mandate to carry out those policies enunciated in the election program."

"The Liberal Party had an outstanding record to lead them to victory in the person of Rt. Hon. St. Laurent. His statesmanlike attributes and his great concern for the common man and the general welfare of the people recommended him to the electorate. I am still conscious of the wonderful effect of his visit to British Columbia, and I look forward to many worthwhile things being accomplished by his government for the good of Canada generally."

"The sweeping victory demonstrated two things very clearly. First the people of our country are still determined to develop the Dominion along traditional lines of free enterprise rather than embarking on untried economic theories. Secondly it gave evidence that the Liberal Party and the government it supports are in tune with public sentiment. The humanitarian policies that have led to so many reforms and the splendid war record of the government have been fully endorsed."

"To Prime Minister St. Laurent, my good friend 'Bob' Mayhew, who has served Canada and Victoria, in particular, so well, I send by heartiest congratulations. To all Liberals elected I express the hope that they will continue to adhere to those principles which have made the party so great."

The seventh annual exhibition of native children's art, sponsored by the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society, will be held in the Provincial Museum on July 7. The coming exhibit will feature work of five schools in B.C.

Britain May Draw More Freely On Loan From Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The government likely will decide tomorrow at its first post-election cabinet meeting whether to send Finance Minister Abbott to London to attend Commonwealth economic and financial discussions early in July.

A government source today said the decision would depend on what Canada considered she would be able to accomplish at the discussions.

He confirmed a London report that all the finance ministers of the Commonwealth have been asked to attend the emergency talks to discuss the United Kingdom's deepening economic crisis.

STERLING AREA

"The problem is mostly one which concerns the sterling area," the source said. "It is one which Canada can do little about, since it deals with the shortage of dollars—both Canadian and United States."

There had been suggestions, he indicated, that Canada might speed up the U.K.'s withdrawals on the Anglo-Canadian loan. Canada has allowed Britain to withdraw at the rate of $10,000,000 a month on the $235,000,000 part of the loan frozen in November, 1947, when Canada's own dollar holdings began to decline.

THE GREAT SWEEP

ONE OF THE FUNDAMENTAL TRUTHS impressed upon the people of this highly-favored land by the thoroughly conclusive result of yesterday's general election is that there is no room in political Canada for extremism—whether it be of the Right or of the Left. While the major test was considered one between the Liberals led by Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent and the Progressive Conservatives led by Mr. George Drew—both of them new to a national contest—the Socialists under Mr. M. J. Coldwell's banner had campaigned with all the vigor of which they were capable.

The triumph of the government forces, therefore, furnished new and convincing evidence of popular approval of those basic Liberal policies extended after the general election of 1945 and amplified by the party's common consent at last year's national convention in Ottawa. In other words, when they went to the polls yesterday the voters were in the happy position of being able to contrast solid achievement under successive Liberal administrations with the nebulous promises with which both opposition parties sought to win the favor of the electorate.
While they would be less than human were they not bitterly disappointed by the result, neither Mr. Drew nor Mr. Coldwell can legitimately quarrel with the emphatic character of the decision of the people.

Since this decision is so emphatic in every one of the 10 provinces, moreover, there is little point in splitting up these comments 10 ways. But it is not difficult to imagine Mr. Drew's reflections as he contemplates the cold fact that his bid for support in Quebec netted him only two of the 83 seats. This part of the great triumph scored by Mr. St. Laurent in central and eastern Canada, incidentally, can be viewed from another standpoint. It is this: Quebec and Ontario together yesterday elected the identical number of Liberals to the next Parliament that could be counted for the whole of Canada by the Prime Minister on the day of dissolution.

When the smoke of this latest national political battle has cleared away, then, the former Premier of Ontario can prepare to go to Ottawa and direct the operations of a little more than two score of his supporters.
Mr. Coldwell can do the same with a dozen of his Socialists. Mr. Low will head a following of 10 "funny money" advocates, while an Independent Liberal doubtless will add his voice on important questions in support of Mr. St. Laurent's record-breaking aggregation of 193 in the next House of Commons that will number 262 against the old one of 245.

It is to be hoped, incidentally, that the Liberals of the great Conservative Party—who succeeded uncomfortable and unhappy and now defeated John Bracken—will change his tactics when Parliament reassembles. Mr. Drew had little to offer for serious consideration by the elected representatives of the people during his brief experience as leader of His Majesty's Most Loyal Opposition. Perhaps he has realized that capricious criticism, obstructionism for the sake of obstruction, and the tricks of village politics are not good enough for this great and growing nation.

DECISION REAFFIRMED

IF THERE REMAINED ANY LINGERING doubts in British Columbia as to the authenticity of the Coalition victory in the recent provincial election, last night's federal results must have thoroughly removed them. Returning 11 Liberals and three Progressive Conservatives where there were four of each in the last House of Commons, and only three C.C.F. members where there were six, the election, apart from its resounding affirmation of faith in the Dominion's Liberal Government, provided an equally spectacular rejection of Socialist aspirations. It will be noted that the supporters of Prime Minister St. Laurent gained four seats from the C.C.F., two from Progressive Conservatives, and won one of the two newly-created ridings. No appeal to public opinion could receive a more definite answer.

The reverse side of the election tapestry—the figures indicating those who lost their deposits by failing to achieve at least half the total of the winner's votes—is equally revealing. Liberals lost one deposit, Progressive Conservatives six, C.C.F. five, Social Credit two and L.P.P. three. This provides a fair indication of the general provincial trend—the victories in most cases were by good majorities and beyond any doubt.

The significance of the British Columbia returns, taken in conjunction with the results in the other reputed Socialist strongholds, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, will be clear to all who take the trouble to inspect them. This province and this Dominion have too great a stake in the future to permit themselves to be fettered by statism and government domination. The process of government will remain what it should be—an aid to private initiative only when required, and a provider of social welfare only to the extent that the personal incomes of the people and the stability of the business structure can support it. The threat of Socialism—the opening wedge of totalitarianism—has been effectively turned back, if not completely routed.

MR. MAYHEW'S VICTORY

SINCERE APPRECIATION FOR A JOB well done and the unequivocal desire to entrust their interests to an experienced and competent man were displayed by Victoria voters in the thumping triumph they accorded Hon. R. W. Mayhew, Minister of Fisheries. The result in this constituency, in addition to demonstrating the city's satisfaction with the Liberal administration, was once again an outstanding achievement for a representative who, having made those sacrifices required from a highly-successful businessman who enters the field of public service, has discharged his obligations with tireless energy and genuine concern for the people of this community.

It is only necessary to repeat the tribute extended to the Victoria minister by his defeated Progressive Conservative opponent last night to indicate the faith reposed in him by those of different political persuasions. Mr. Gordon A. Cameron echoed public thought in general when he expressed the conviction that this entire constituency would continue to be as well served in the future by Mr. Mayhew as it had been during his earlier terms in office.

To Maj.-Gen. George R. Pearkes, V.C., we extend our congratulations on a good fight cleanly won. With the platform and policies of the distinguished soldier we have many times disagreed. We will continue, however, to respect the honesty and forth-rightness of his intent, and recognize his selection by the voters of the Nanaimo riding as a tribute to a man who works conscientiously for the welfare of his constituents.

The return of Mr. J. L. Gibson, Independent for Comox-Alberni, should occasion little surprise. In his straight fight with the C.C.F. aspirant he enjoyed a comfortable margin, less spectacular than that of the victors in the other two Vancouver Island ridings, but sufficient to illustrate the manner in which the people of the district he represents are opposed to the doctrines of the Socialist planners.

ALL CANADIANS

ALTHOUGH NO COMPULSION WAS brought to bear on the public, hundreds last Sunday attended ceremonies marking the observance of "I am a Canadian" Day in Beacon Hill Park. Speakers noted the liberty enjoyed by the population which permitted its members to take part voluntarily in the function. No effort was made to drag groups in a manner to ensure a large assembly. But the size of the crowd was, nevertheless, imposing.

Increased appreciation of the significance of Canadian citizenship doubtless played an important part in attracting many of our citizens to the ceremony at Beacon Hill, despite the fact that Victorians and Canadians in general are not as inclined to participate in mass demonstrations as are some other peoples.

On the other hand, thousands of Victorians did not attend. They spent their Sunday afternoon in the manner which suited them best. Each, in his or her own way, was also celebrating "I am a Canadian" Day by enjoying the freedoms implied in that statement. The man working in his garden, the father attending church or taking his family for an outing, the young folk passing a pleasant hour at a resort or, in the country, all had reason to give thanks for the blessings bestowed upon them. Nor need they seek to formalize their appreciation to too great an extent.
It will be sufficient if they recognize for 365 days in the year their good fortune in being afforded the amenities available in Canada.

MATTER OF OPINION

ONE OF OUR MAINLAND CONTEMporaries, not noted for its continuous applause for either the King or the St.
Laurent governments, said in its leading editorial last Saturday: "The arresting factor in this campaign has been George Drew and the Progressive Conservative Party he has so greatly invigorated and strengthened."
It added: "In one short session in which he led the Opposition in the House of Commons he did a magnificent job."

Mr. Drew certainly put more "pep" into the Conservative Party to which was added
the prefix "Progressive"—the addition Mr.
Bracken demanded as his price for leaving his job as Liberal Premier of Manitoba more than six and a half years ago to assume the Tory leadership and "deliver the western vote"—but the former Premier of Ontario assuredly does not qualify for our contemporary's accolade.

Mr. Drew's "magnificent job" began and ended in a typical series of diatribes against the government and a woeful lack of objective criticism or constructive thought. As he enters on a new phase of his federal political career, therefore, it is to be hoped he will be guided by the manifest wishes of the people. Enough said?

THE WE-OR-THY FALLACY

IN MOSCOW and in the Western capitals there is agreement that the tension has become relaxed though none of the great issues of the conflict has been settled. What has happened?

According to "Pravda" the tension has become relaxed because of (1) "the people's peace movement throughout the world," which is pushed by the Soviet Union, (2)
the proposals advanced by the Soviet Union,
(3) the sharpening of world economic difficulties.

According to the Western briefings the tension has become relaxed because of (1)
the people's liberation movements against Soviet tyranny, (2) the successful policies of the Western governments, and (3) the sharp-ening of economic difficulties in the Soviet orbit.

A STUDENT of history, who has examined the course and the outcome of other cold wars between powers that have irreconcilable ideologies might, I venture to think, suggest a rather different explanation. It would be that in these cold wars there comes a time when, though the conflict is unsettled, the world has outgrown it. Events develop and new forces appear. They burst the stereotyped formulae of the cold warriors.
They confound both their hopes and their fears, and present situations which are novel and different. The old codgers go on munching their chestnuts and arguing about the latest dispatches from the Battle of Bull Run.

SOMETHING of that sort has, I strongly suspect, been happening for some fairly considerable time, and is the underlying reason why at Paris nobody wanted to quarrel very much or to settle very much.
The course of events in Europe, in Asia, and throughout the world has developed in many ways which make many of the stereotyped formulae of the conflict not merely irreconcilable but irrelevant. They have become irrelevant because, over increasingly large areas of the globe and for more and more people, what M. Vishinsky might propose, or what Mr. Acheson might propose, or what M. Vishinsky and Mr. Acheson might conceivably agree upon, is no longer decisive, and not necessarily even very influential.

IN THE LAST analysis it is, it seems to me, because the power of the Big Four to shape events is contracting, that the tension between them is relaxing. It is their diminishing control over Germany, over Eastern Europe, over Japan, over China, over Southeast Asia, over the Middle East which explains why they are no longer trying very sincerely to settle and are no longer disposed very fiercely to quarrel.
The realization has reached the inner councils on both sides that they can no longer expect to decide the future in these contested areas, no matter who "won" the cold war.

To be sure, Messrs. Vishinsky, Bevin, Schuman and Acheson are still the Foreign Ministers of great powers. But they are not as Churchill, Stalin and Roosevelt thought they were, and in wartime actually were,
the masters and leaders of the whole world.

THE POWER WHICH WAS centralized in the war coalition is becoming so dispersed that the world can no longer be organized for a world settlement by the Big Four nor aligned into two blocs clearly separated in their political allegiance and by their ideological convictions. The world is much too complicated, human nature is much too contrary, to be explained any longer by the simple theories of the cold war, or governed by the strategic notions of the cold warriors.

So as the developing realities in Europe and Asia emerge through the fog, there will, I believe, gradually go out of fashion a mode of interpreting events which, though it had practical importance at one time, no longer fits the facts. It is the we-or-thy formula: the theory that every country is, or will be, with Russia or with the Western powers, is or will be "Communist" or "democratic."

THIS FORMULA is now a snare and a delusion. Applied to Germany, applied to Japan, applied to China, applied to the primitive peoples emerging from the old colonial empires, it explains nothing that is really important. As an estimate of the situation on which to base a policy it is so misleading that as long as the United States clings to it she will not be able to arrive at a German, a Japanese, a Chinese, or an Asiatic policy that is effective abroad and commands confidence at home.

Getting To Be An 'Old Spanish Custom'

Boredom---Political And Otherwise

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

THE political pot in Britain is simmering and it only needs
the extra fuel of a general election to bring it to a boil. The recent municipal elections, in which the Conservatives scored great gains over Labor, do not appear to have aroused sufficient interest on the part of the electorate to add to the total popular vote.

NATIONAL TRENDS

In Liverpool, for instance, according to the Daily Post's analysis, the percentage of the popular vote was 47.2, as compared with 48.19 in the 1947 elections.

Commenting on the results of the elections, the Daily Post said that since the contests covered
"many of the populous industrial areas," the results were "especially significant of national trends against Labor already indicated by the county council and urban and rural contests."

Whether the sweeping gains of the Conservatives in all the municipal elections in Britain are an indication of what will happen in the next national general election remains to be seen. It is said that much will depend upon efforts being made by Conservative organization under Lord Woolton to whip-up a record
popular vote.

There is no doubt that the Labor Party has still a large following, but it is now on the defensive, whereas in 1945 it was very much on the offensive. The party leaders and journalistic supporters, since they cannot attack the opposition for anything they have done in the past few years, are explaining away the failure of the Labor government to fulfill its pre-election promises.

So far as its socialist program is concerned, the government has fulfilled its promises of nationalization, but the results have not been as predicted. The Conservatives are recalling some of the rosy predictions made by Labor Party leaders in 1945. Mr.
Herbert Morrison is quoted as saying, in giving thanks for the election of his party to office:
"We have left behind the old scarcity economics of the capitalist world."

THEN AND NOW

Quotations from pre-election speeches by other Labor Party leaders are as follows: Ernest Bevin—"We could build four or five million houses . . . and rebuild our country in very quick time." Aneurin Bevan—"I confidently expect that before the next election every family in Great Britain will have a separate house." James Griffiths—"Labor's policy alone can give the nation the coal it needs." Ernest Bevin—"Labor will protect your savings against rising prices. . . . With a Labor government in office—which would be believed and understood by Russia—a new atmosphere would be created and the whole world changed."

Mr. Bevin would be the first to admit that he was mistaken in this last prediction, and as for the others, most of them have gone into reverse.

Sir Stafford Cripps, in his recent budget speech, told the British people that socialism was a costly business, and that if they wanted it they would have to pay for it.

Commenting on Sir Stafford's speech, a political columnist in The Recorder said: "The chancellor is a man of personal integrity, with a curious innocence that will always make him an inept politician. . . . Who but an innocent could have said, in effect, during his budget speech:
'Housewives of Britain, I must raise the price of meat and butter and cheese, but be of good cheer—I shall lower the duty on light French wines!' There has been nothing like it since Marie Antoinette." (It was she who said, "Let them eat cake.")

The English people have always taken their politics seriously, but they have mixed it with a saving sense of humor, which however has been lacking in the past few years.

Sir Stafford Cripps is an able and honest administrator, but he had little sense of humor when he applied the word "au-susterity" to his program of economic planning, by which he created shortages of commodities for home consumption in order to increase the volume of exports. It was the old story, "Live horse, and you'll get grass."

STRONGEST EMOTION

It is generally admitted in the British press that Sir Stafford's extra dose of "austerity" in his last budget was responsible for the sudden switch of public opinion as expressed in the municipal elections. One writer attributed it to "boredom," which he said is "one of the strongest of all British emotions."

Security Can Cost Too Much

By J. LISTER RUTLEDGE

PERHAPS it was the war and its aftermath that turned people's thoughts toward security. It is a little difficult to understand why this should be as the war proved so conclusively that absolute security is unattainable and that those who sought to secure it by relinquishing their freedom finally lost both.

UNFOUNDED BELIEF

Yet people continue to believe that some group, some party, some government can provide them with a security they cannot provide for themselves.

They close their eyes to the fact that, for something that cannot be guaranteed, they are relinquishing the freedoms that, a generation or so ago, were all that anyone thought necessary to assure the good life.

It was quite evident to the pioneers that the price of security was giving up. To provide for their future, they gave up home and friends and ease and the softness of life. They relinquished present comfort for future gain.

They learned that the ultimate goal represented a present cost.
The difference between them and so many of us is that they regulated themselves and lost none of the rights and liberties:
The right to change their minds;
the right to retire from an undertaking; the right to say how much they were ready to sacrifice for an end; the right to be free rather than a kept man.

LACKS FREEDOM

But that is not so with the security that is provided for us.
When a group or a state does things for you, you are not free any more to change your mind, or to retire from the agreement
if it does not seem to be all it promised.

For this sort of security you give up your right of choice and decision and accept the decisions of those who guarantee your well-being.
How else could it possibly be?
How can you guarantee security without the resources to provide it? And how can these resources be provided except by what is taken from you and me? Remember also that the taking has become compulsory.

DOES NOT JIBE

We might as well admit it, security of this type doesn't jibe with the spirit and the opportunity of the pioneers. Real security is something that we create ourselves. We can't buy it on a black market that deals in our liberties.

STATE Secretary Acheson says
the complete inside story of United States relations with China may be told soon. It should be a best seller.

This statement was more or less coincident with two striking developments in the United States Senate. In one case several Senators took the floor to criticize the United States policy toward Nationalist China.

In the other, 21 Senators (15 Republicans and six Democrats) sent President Truman a letter asking for assurances that the United States wouldn't recognize the Communist regime but would continue to support the Nationalist government.

Observers believe this senatorial reaction may speed publication of the report. However, it's clear that any detailed discussion of the United States government's feelings about China might be a decidedly delicate matter.

The question of recognition in China hasn't yet arisen. When it does one would expect that the big western powers—Britain, the United States and France—would act in unison. And there are many observers who won't find it surprising if they grant recognition to a Communist regime
if it is a going concern in control of a large part of the country, and if the Nationalist government at the same time is a going concern in another part of China, why its recognition would be continued.

However, that's speculation and has no official backing.

that hookey is a transgression

Dr. Malcolm Wallace, principal emeritus of University college in Toronto, will probably find a great deal of support for his belief that the young people of today are not "going to the dogs." Even his more forthright statement, quoted in a newspaper interview, that most young people today "are better sorts than their parents" will be endorsed.
True, some of the public will no doubt continue to be alarmed at every youthful escapade. There are always those who ask,
"Whither are we drifting?" Since time immemorial, some people have been filled with gloom whenever they thought of youth.
Dr. Wallace's words may help

BATHTUB CULTURE

Washington Post
Americans have been advertised so widely to the world as having an obsession for bathtubs that it is surprising to learn that 1 out of 10 city dwellers and 7 out of 10 farm families have no modern bath or shower facilities at all.

Modern bath facilities require running water and plumbing, an expensive undertaking in rural districts. So no wonder that farm families buy radios, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, refrigerators, home freezers and even automobiles and let the bathroom wait. Farmers own as many radios per family as city dwellers. They own more pressure cookers, have more pianos. Yet two thirds of farm families have no running water, more than half no kitchen sink.
Now as television becomes more available in remote areas, will this also take precedence over the bathroom?

In the past the consumer has voted heavily for escape, as witness the motor cars parked outside tumbleweed homes, the blare of radios from shanties in all parts of the country. Yet the bathroom has powerful feminine support, and farm women are increasingly having a say in the spending of income. Bathtub civilization even if delayed will, we dare say, take over the farm eventually.

Carpenters Press For Increase In Minimum Wage

NANAIMO (Special) — The quarterly meeting of the Vancouver Island District Council of Carpenters, held here in the U.M.W.A. Hall during the week-end, endorsed a resolution calling on the provincial government to increase the minimum wage for carpenters.

The delegates, who gathered here from Victoria, Port Alberni, Duncan, Lake Cowichan, Courtenay, Campbell River, Powell River, urged that the wage be set closer to the actual rate. The resolution noted the minimum wage for plumbers had recently been revised.

At the same time the meeting agreed to seek of the new Legislature amendments to the annual holidays with pay Act. The carpenters expressed the hope that the act would be amended to conform with the exigencies of the construction trade.

Victor Midgley reported continued success in organizing various branches of the carpenter trade, particularly among floorlayers and shinglers on Vancouver Island.

Officers for the year were elected and installed by Mr. Midgley as follows:

R. E. Hill of Victoria, president; J. Heavener, Powell River, vice-president; J. Trebette, Port Alberni, secretary-treasurer, and J. Seaton, Nanaimo, warden.

Smallwood To Appear In Court In St. John's

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood was ordered in magistrate's court today to answer charges that he intimidated voters in the federal riding of St. John's West.

Magistrate Hugh O'Neill ruled that his court is competent to hear the charges laid two weeks ago by W. J. Browne, successful Progressive Conservative candidate in the riding in Monday's election.

Counsel for Mr. Smallwood had argued earlier that the charges should be thrown out as "abortive." He also declared the Canadian Criminal Code still has not been proclaimed in the new province and there could be no legal penalties imposed under the Dominion Elections Act.

Mr. Browne laid the charges on behalf of four citizens in the south coast district of Ferryland and who quoted Mr. Smallwood as saying no public money would be spent there unless they voted for the Liberal candidate, Gregory Power.

The Ferryland area voted strongly for Mr. Browne in Monday's polling.

Ireland Reimposes Protective Tariffs

DUBLIN (Reuter)—The Republic of Ireland reimposed pre-war import duties today to protect its linen and textile industries.

A 40 per cent ad valorem tariff was imposed on imported piece goods containing more than 60 per cent linen in weight. There is a 20 per cent preference rate for British and Canadian goods.

A 30 per cent ad valorem duty will be imposed on imported woolen blankets, with a 25 per cent rate in favor of British and Canadian goods.

The tariff on hand-knitted woolen and worsted yarns is a flat ad valorem rate of 33½ per cent.

Plans To Reclaim False Creek Area

VANCOUVER (CP)—An extensive plan to reclaim a large area of Vancouver's burned-out False Creek will be placed before the works board committee next Tuesday.

Alderman Halford D. Wilson, who termed the creek "an eyesore in the heart of the city," intends placing proposals for the reclamation before the committee. It was destroyed in a $1,000,000 fire June 15.

They will call for "reclamation of the tide flats and development of a deep waterway 600 feet wide extending from English Bay to the head of the creek at Main Street."

The Alderman said today he will ask for a "competent harbor and railroad terminal engineer" to be placed in charge of the work.

May Production In U.S. 3 Per Cent Below April Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States' production machine has throttled down to its slackest pace in three years and no end to the slowdown has yet been sighted.

The Federal Reserve Board reported a 10.8 per cent fall in production from last November's peak to the end of May. The board said another drop of 2 to 3 per cent is indicated for June.

Production is coming down with prices, and accompanying factory closings or slowdowns are boosting unemployment in the process.

The Reserve Board's report Monday said output in May remained 74 per cent above the average for prewar 1935-39. But it was nearly 3 per cent under April and more than 9 per cent below May, 1948.

Meanwhile, there was no agreement over just how serious the United States economic situation is. Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer and a man who once held that cabinet post, Henry Wallace, disputed the point in a radio debate Monday night.

Sawyer insisted we are "still in an era of prosperity such as we have not enjoyed in our history," despite declining business and increasing joblessness.

Wallace, on the other hand, said the country is in bad shape economically and President Truman should be doing something to "restore prosperity."

Victoria Liberals Jubilant

Scenes of jubilation and stoicism were witnessed in the three political party headquarters here Monday night during the first two hours following the closing of the federal election polls.

In the Victoria Liberal Association headquarters at 1322A Government Street a joyous, clapping, shouting, singing crowd of several hundred gathered to watch with elation the returns come in not only from Victoria but across the nation and to congratulate Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew for his success in Victoria and for his party's success from Victoria to St. John's, Newfoundland.

In the Progressive Conservative campaign headquarters at Broad and Johnson Streets the feeling of the crowd was mixed. Party workers were depressed at the defeat of the party candidates across the country and the defeat of the Victoria candidate, Gordon A. Cameron. Their defeat, however, was eased by the success of Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., in Nanaimo, who piled up a substantial lead as the result of the polling came in over the telephone and the radio.

DISCUSS NEXT ELECTION

C.C.F. workers, at their headquarters in Woodsworth Hall, 857 Pandora Street, their three Vancouver Island candidates defeated and their B.C. and national representation in the House of Commons slashed, stoically watched the returns come in. As the trend became obvious they pushed the present election out of their minds and began to discuss their chances four or five years hence.

As in the provincial election returns by polling stations were read off at Liberal headquarters by Jim Cooper. Each return was greeted by a roar of enthusiastic applause and cheering.

When Mr. Mayhew and campaign leaders mounted the dias the piano struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The song was shouted to the rafters.

Mr. Mayhew told the crowd of Liberal workers that on Saturday he had talked with officials in Ottawa and had been asked how the election would go in British Columbia.

"I told them I hoped we would have nine Liberals," he said. "I am quite sure we will have nine when the counting is through. We had four when the House was dissolved."

Mr. Mayhew said triumphantly that almost every constituency in which he had spoken had returned a Liberal.

"This is the fourth time you people have expressed your confidence in me," he said. "I appreciate it very much and I am sure my wife does too."

"I want to thank you one and all for the way you have treated me since the fall of 1937."

He said the victory showed the confidence placed by the Canadian people in their Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, whom he described as one of the finest leaders Canada had ever had.

"We will have a majority sufficient to do the work we feel it should be done," he said. "We won't have to put up with some of the stalling we had to during the last session."

He assured, however, that the Liberal government would not ride roughshod over the opposition.

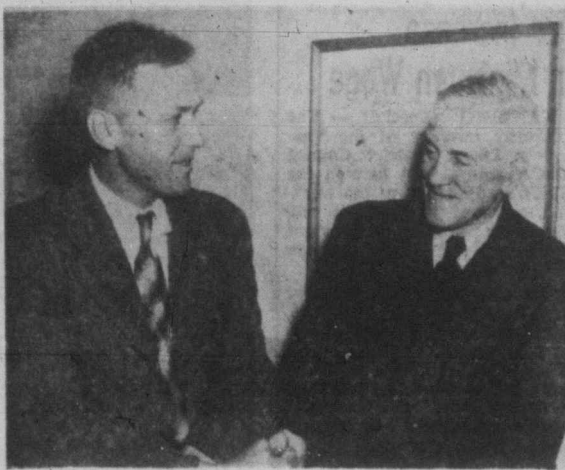

"The people of Canada will never regret their decision," he continued. "Louis St. Laurent will never let this country down."

His address was followed by cheers and clapping.

Mrs. Mayhew also thanked party supporters for the confidence shown her husband.

VICTORIOUS CONSERVATIVE—Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes' victory in Nanaimo constituency eased the gloom at the Progressive Conservative headquarters here Monday night. He is shown sharing his elation with Mrs. Pearkes.

NEXT TIME?—William Caird, right, the C.C.F. candidate in Victoria, Monday night expressed confidence that the C.C.F. Party's turn would come in the future. He is shown shaking hands with his campaign manager-official agent, Charles Crow.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT—His hopes to represent Victoria in the House of Commons shattered by this election report, Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive Conservative, was stoical. He took consolation in a big cigar.

JOHN BRACKEN
Having resigned last year as the Progressive Conservative national leader, John Bracken met personal defeat at the polls Monday. He lost to a Liberal, J. E. Matthews, in Brandon, Man., constituency.

Liberals Poll Almost Half Of Record National Vote

By CANADIAN PRESS

Liberal candidates polled almost half of a record national vote in the Dominion election, it was indicated in incomplete compilations today.

With the national vote totaling more than 5,000,000, Liberals received 49.7 per cent of it, compared with 39 per cent in the 1945 election and 51 per cent in 1940.

The Canadian Press compilation showed Progressive Conservatives polled about 30 per cent, compared with 27 per cent in 1945, and with 30 per cent in 1940 as National Government candidates.

The C.C.F. percentage was 13 per cent, compared with 15 per cent in 1945 and 8 per cent in 1940.

The popular-vote compilation, with about 90 per cent of the Dominion's polls reported, showed the vote would total around 5,000,000, compared with the 1945 total of 5,246,130, and the 1940 total of 4,620,260.

No Previous Cabinet Head Campaigned As Did St. Laurent

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA (CP)—It was Uncle Louis' election all the way.

No one could deny that today any more than he could deny the political dynamite in the campaign Prime Minister St. Laurent charted and fought, going to the people in his own fatherly way, talking to them quietly of peace and a fair share for all in villages and towns and cities from one ocean to the other.

Reporters who followed him for thousands of miles said no Canadian Prime Minister had ever tried anything like it before.

He said there were no major issues and he made it stick. He went into villages and small towns he probably had never heard of and dozens of them said they hadn't seen a Prime Minister in years. He spoke 10 and 12 and 13 times a day until his throat gave out and then he rested and came back for more. He kissed scores of flower girls, shook tens of thousands of hands, traveled by train and car and air and ship.

But above all he let the people come near him so they could hear him talk and see his face and decide "if you think you can trust me . . ." In the great city auditoriums, lost behind his dark-rimmed glasses and the microphones, jeopardized by space and prepared texts, he could not do this. But in the little places, at the whistle stops, in the fishing hamlets, beside the village war memorials, they came close to him and, the results indicate, he was dynamite. But he must have been dynamite even in the big auditoriums, too.

EMOTIONS VARIED

There was profound emotion when he went home to his native village of Compton, Que.; courage when he went into big, tough Hamilton and said labor should have its fair share but should not dominate the land; something approaching religious fervor in the reaction to him in French-speaking eastern Ontario.

Before all this started, before he set forth in early April on a western tour that was the real start of all this, he went down to Washington to see another politician who had done pretty well himself.

Harry Truman will probably make a return call to see where Uncle Louis got the extra lessons.

Victory At Polls Fresh Tribute To Liberal Record, Says Mr. King

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's 40 years in politics were climaxed Monday night as he watched "with delight" the Liberals sweep back into power for a fourth straight term.

"Naturally I am delighted with the victory of the Liberal Party," he said in an interview, then added nostalgically:

"I would have liked to have gone back to parliament myself."

Because of his 74 years and state of health he had declined to run again in the Ontario riding of Glengarry, where a Liberal, W. J. Major, won over Progressive Conservative and Social Credit opponents.

Now, Mr. King said, he would take up a new task, that of writing his memoirs, but as long as he lived he would keep up his interest in politics.

Turning to his successor, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, who took over the reins of the party and the government last year, Mr. King said "too much credit cannot be given to the Prime Minister, Mr. St. Laurent, for the splendid leadership he has given the country in parliament since his appointment to office . . ."

The Liberal victory also marked "no uncertain approval by the people of Canada of the Liberal Party's administration over the last 14 years, and in particular since the last general election in 1945."

Fourteen Senate Seats Still Vacant

OTTAWA (CP)—When Prime Minister St. Laurent went to the country in Monday's general election with 14 vacancies in the Senate it was an almost-unprecedented action in Canadian politics. Usually, all the Senate seats were filled before an election.

It probably was an indication of his confidence that his government would be returned. Six of the vacancies are in Newfoundland, and eight are in the other provinces.

Probably he felt that while his party would be victorious, some of the old stalwarts might fall by the wayside and he wanted vacancies in the Upper House for them. But all these old war-horses came through as winners.

The speculation now is that while these veterans won again, the Prime Minister may feel the party still owed them a debt of gratitude and may elevate them to the safety of the Upper House.

There are three vacancies in Ontario, two in Nova Scotia, one in Manitoba, and the other vacancies among the old provinces are one each in Prince Edward Island, Alberta and British Columbia.

From London, Eng., comes news of the marriage of Athena Alexander, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Alexander, 2757 Dufferin Avenue, and Charles Douglas Street, Battlesea, London, Eng. The couple spent their honeymoon in Paris and are now making their home at 63 Norbury Crescent, London.

Grandmere's Pendant Graces White Satin Bridal Gown

Her grandmother's sunburst pendant graced the exquisite traditional satin gown yoked in lace, worn by Miss Winnifred Stone, 2943 Shelbourne Street, when she married Thomas Hinton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hinton of this city.

Rev. George Biddle heard the vows of the couple Saturday afternoon in St. John's Church. A chapel veil of embroidered silken net held with a coronet of crystal beads and seed pearls, enhanced the bridal gown made with rounded neckline edged in satin, lily point sleeves slender bodice fastened with tiny self-covered buttons, and full skirt, slightly in train. Red roses and gardenias were in the shower bouquet.

Donald Featherstone gave his sister in marriage.

Miss Muriel Petheridge, maid of honor, wore delphinium blue taffeta, and Miss Laura Sheret, bridesmaid, was frocked in primrose yellow. Floral bandeaux matched their gowns, and they carried fan-bouquets of stocks, sweet peas and roses in cream and mauve, respectively.

Ronald McCrimmon was best man. Ushers were Leslie Hooper and Albert Stone. Mrs. Dorothy Kenward Smith was soloist, and Frederick Chubb, the organist.

Guests were welcomed at Oak Lodge, Quadra Street, where Mrs. Featherstone and Miss Evelyn Hinton, sister of the groom, were in the receiving line. A two-tier cake centred the bride's table. R. McCrimmon proposed the toast.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
TRAINING IS FASTER
IF CHILD IS OLDER

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
The average mother wants to get the task of toilet training accomplished early, since it is disagreeable and tiresome to her.

Unfortunately, nature does not cooperate in this plan, for each child develops at his own rate of speed and his ability to control himself is no more predictable at any certain age than to assert that he will have so many teeth or will be able to walk or gain so many pounds in weight.

The experience of Mrs. G. H. should be encouraging to those mothers who are skeptical of the success of late training versus early training. She writes, "I have read your column since before the birth of my first baby and I have always found it interesting and sound. I appreciated especially your viewpoint on toilet training (not just mine—that of all persons versed in developmental behavior of children)—and since I became pregnant when my child was 10 months old, I found training difficult.

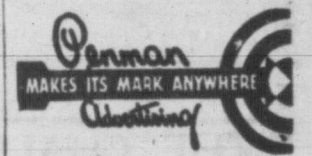

"So, at 20 months I began to train and within a week there were seldom any accidents. She had enough understanding at that age to know what I wanted of her and she could use a word to express her needs. I never realized that toilet training could be so simple, as my friends started at about one year and struggled for months with poor results. She is perfectly trained, now, and hasn't the slightest antipathy to the toilet seat, since I had not taken months to try to make her understand something beyond her capacities.

"One reason, other than the above, for writing this letter, is to ask you if children at an early age show a definite relation to their size when grown? My husband is over six feet, I am five feet, nine inches. I have read somewhere that at two years a child is one-half his height when grown.

"My girl is husky, is 36 inches tall and towers over her associates. I have heard so many remarks about her height that I am sensitive about it. I personally, was a small child until adolescence and then suddenly grew tall. Is my child the monster everyone thinks she is?"

Not a monster, but taller than the tallest child of her age according to charts. She is probably destined to be six feet tall.

but as modern children tend to tallness because of good food and care, her male associates will be right up there with her. Our leaflet No. 37, "The First Year," which contains weight and height charts, may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

TIME TO GET BUSY MAKING JAM AND JELLY

For Quick, Easy
Sure Results
Take Your Choice of CERTO or CERTO Crystals

Jam and jelly-making need not be a chore. The sensible, modern way to do it is with the help of CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals. Both are fruit pectin—the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell"—extracted and concentrated for efficient jam and jelly making. The name "Certo" is a trade-mark.

Please yourself which you choose... some prefer the liquid—some the crystals. Each ends guesswork and tedious long-boiling. Each gives sure results if you follow the instructions exactly.

Why CERTO Fruit Pectin
or CERTO Crystals Make Better Jams and Jellies
...Easier...Quicker

1. VERY SHORT BOIL. When you use CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals you need only a ONE-MINUTE full, rolling boil for both jams and jellies. Such a saving of time and work!
2. MORE JAM OR JELLY. Very little juice has time to boil away as it does in old-fashioned, long-boiling. You get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.
3. FRESH-FRUIT TASTE... COLOUR. The lovely taste and colour of the fresh fruit stay in your jams and jellies because the boil is too short to spoil the one or dull the other.
4. NO GUESSWORK. With either CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals you get tested recipes—a different one for each fruit. Follow them exactly and you'll have no failures.

WHO WORKS HARDER?

Is the average, run-of-the-mill marriage, in which the husband makes only a modest income and the wife has to do her own housework and baby-tending, harder on the man or the woman? Ninety-nine wives out of a hundred, if asked this question, would shriek out as with one voice that it is women who get the hot end of the matrimonial bargain.

For practically all married women have the martyr complex, and there is nothing that they are more firmly convinced of than that while they are toiling over the cooking stove and walking the baby with the colic that their husbands are enjoying themselves and leading the life of Riley.

Much of wives' nagging is just pure envy of their husbands who, they think, have an easier job than they have. They can't understand why their husbands complain of being tired when they come home at night, when they have done nothing but go downtown where they saw many people who were doing interesting things. If they had only been shut up in a house all day, with a lot of quarrelling and fighting children who were calling on M-a-m-a every minute, and if they had to go through the same old routine of cooking and washing and scrubbing every day, they would have a reason for being wornout and grouchy.

TREADMILL DUTY

And what puts the climax on wives' self-pity is that their work is treadmill stuff. It is brewing the same coffee, frying the same potatoes, washing the same dishes, year in and year out. No eight-hour days, no five-day weeks for wives and mothers, so it is small wonder that they quote the old adage: "Man works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done."

Hence it is not surprising that women think that marriage is a cinch for husbands and a chore for wives. But is it true? I think not. I think that the housewives are always griping about how hard they have to work and how monotonous their work is, and feeling misused because their husbands won't help with the housework, need to do a little straight thinking on the subject and get help to how lucky they are.

They might realize, for instance, that no woman who has to make her own living has the personal liberty that a wife does. True, she has plenty of work to do, but she isn't working under a slave-driver. She can take her own time for it. She is the only woman who can spend an hour gossiping over the telephone, or taking a nap, or reading a who-dun-it if she happens to feel like it. She is her own boss, and that's something.

ALL JOBS MONOTONOUS

Of course, the housewife's work is monotonous, but so is every other job from making soap to being a movie star. And certainly there is nothing monotonous about rearing a family of children, each of whom has to be dealt with on a different platform and who present problems that Solomon himself couldn't solve.

And, furthermore, there is one thing that few wives take into consideration when they are bemoaning the hardships of marriage, and that is that the husband is the "gentleman who pays the rent." On his shoulders rests the responsibility of the family being fed and clothed, and that is a crushing burden that most wives never have to bear.

Statistics show that wives outlive their husbands by six to seven years. Surely this is proof enough that many a man works himself to death for the Little Woman and the kids.

'The Caledonia'

If this charming design, simplicity and spaciousness are achieved in a ground area of 1,130.5 square feet. This house does not come into a low cost bracket as it contains seven large rooms, two baths and an attached garage. Economy is attained by the simple rectangular plan which is relieved by a gable at the front entrance plus a front extension for the garage.

It is essentially a home for a family with children. Two large second-floor bedrooms, a bath with shower, plenty closet space and a hall large enough for setting up junior's electric train. Room areas on the first floor are increased by careful planning which cuts hall space to a minimum. There is a built-in desk in the living room, book cases and excellent wall space. The kitchen and dining space are combined to increase the spacious effect and to show off to advantage a skillfully-planned kitchen layout. The bathroom is large and contains a built-in vanity dresser. Off the dining space is a screened porch which also gives access to the garden.

The DOCTOR Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
When warm weather arrives many people carry their enthusiasm for the sun too far. After a winter in the factory or office people are pale and easily burned. The opening of the beaches and recreation areas is an invitation to over-exposure to the sun on the first clear Sunday. This results in the inevitable Monday morning crop of bright red skins and short tempers.

A severe sunburn is not only uncomfortable but also detrimental to health. The sun's rays are beneficial in moderate quantities. The action of the sun on the skin leads to the production of a substance called vitamin B which is necessary for good health; it probably has other good effects as well. But when part of the skin is killed by too much sun, the good effects are lost.

The proper amount of sun to take at the beginning is just enough to cause a gradual tanning or sunburn. The tanning, which is caused by protective deposits of pigment, serves as a protection against the sun's rays and at the same time allows the sun to get in its good effects. Tanning takes time, however, because the pigment or coloring matter does not come to the skin at once.

The first exposures to the strong summer sun should be short. A few minutes lying in the sun each day for several days is much better than a long exposure with a burn. Gradually the length of time in the sun can be increased as the tanning increases. After a week or so there is little danger of sunburn.

Certain ointments and lotions can be placed on the skin which will protect somewhat against rays of the sun and which promote tanning rather than burning.

The temptation to soak up a lot of sun the first good day should be resisted. It does no good to get too much and may do real harm as well as produce discomfort.

Russian Satellite Treaties Weaken

By DAVID A. STEIN
Cracks have begun to appear in the wall of treaties completed by the Kremlin last year as a 20-year barrier against "imperialist states."

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said, following the signature of a Russo-Hungarian agreement: "Russia now has pacts of friendship and mutual assistance with all states on its western frontier—from the Black Sea to the Baltic."

"We Soviet people," he continued, "see in this an important success in the realization of Prime Minister Stalin's foreign policy, directed towards the strengthening of friendship with all neighboring states and consolidating a general peace."

Russia's treaties with her neighbors are agreements which pledge military and other aid if either party should become involved in military action, with Germany or any other power joined directly or indirectly with Germany. Alliances by either party directed against the other are ruled out. The pacts provide for consultation on international questions concerning the contracting states.

The Kremlin pacts were signed with Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland. In addition, a network of 17 interlocking friendship and mutual defence treaties was completed between the Russian satellite countries. Other agreements called for interlocking commercial, industrial and cultural links over a period of 20 years. The Kremlin, diplomats have said, intends to control eastern Europe's economy through a Moscow-directed economic council for mutual aid. One objective is to hamper the Marshall Plan for European recovery. Another is to prevent western inroads into the satellite countries.

24 PACTS IN SIX YEARS
Unlike the Atlantic Pact, signed by the west as a multilateral agreement, the Kremlin pacts have been made as a series of bilateral treaties. In all 24 pacts have been signed in the past six years.

Yugoslavia, strongly nationalistic, has already rebelled against Kremlin sovereignty. Marshal Tito, once staunchly Stalinist, faces the danger of "economic strangulation" as retaliation for his defiance.

In Poland and Czechoslovakia too, there are signs that communism is not popular with the masses. Finland has never been a strong link in the Russian chain of defence pacts.

Since Yugoslavia is the keystone of the four-power Danubian defence arch, holding Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria together, Marshal Tito's rebellion is a further cause for uneasiness in Moscow.

The Stalin line, intended as a Russian protective dike to last for two decades, is beginning to spring small leaks as the tides of nationalism spread among her satellites.

CHINESE TRAVELER TOLD OF VISIT TO ANCIENT CITY
One of the main gods of the Hindu religion is Brahma, and the Hindus make statues of him with four faces. Thanks to his four faces, this god is supposed to be able to look in four directions at once—north, south east and west.

In the lost city of Angkor there is a temple called the Bayon. It is less large than Angkor Wat, but it is known for the many statues of Brahma which it contains.

Brahma was only one of the gods of the early citizens of Angkor. Among the others were Siva and Vishnu, both of whom are extremely important in the Hindu faith.

Looking at the ruins of Angkor today, we might wish that we could know more about the people who used to live there. Happily, we have a record of them left by a Chinese traveler. This man visited Angkor in the year 1295, and stayed for two years. Here is the English meaning of a few paragraphs from his writings:

"The King of Cambodia holds court twice each day. He does not make appointments in advance. Those who wish to visit him enter the palace gate, and seat themselves on the ground. There they wait until the monarch appears.

"After a time there is music inside the palace, and conch shells are blown outside the palace as a welcome to the king. Then two girls draw aside a curtain over a golden window, and the king looks out. In his hands he holds the holy sword. The people who are seated out side clasp their hands together, and lean over until their foreheads touch the soil. They must stay in that position until the blowing of the conches comes to an end. Then the king lets them step near to him so they can tell him what they have to say.

"When the hearings are over, the two girls draw the curtains back over the window."

Liberal Women Happy Over Victory

There was general rejoicing in headquarters of the Victoria Liberal Association Monday night as news of the great Liberal victory came in. The women who worked long in the interest of Hon. R. W. Mayhew were particularly happy and some of them are shown above with Mrs. Mayhew. Left to right: Mrs. B. Reid, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. Mayhew, Mrs. I. Williams and Mrs. A. Cox. As a tribute to Mrs. Mayhew the women are singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Major Ball Crowds Show Decided Drop

The majors are headed for an attendance decline from last year's record-breaking totals, comparative figures showed today.

With most of the 16 clubs having played nearly half their 77 home games, a check revealed that only six clubs are ahead of last year's figures.

Through games of last night, a total of 8,588,438 fans paid to watch the teams in action, as compared to the 8,965,152 who saw the same number of games in 1948. That is a drop of 376,714.

Cleveland Indians have suffered the biggest drop, having drawn about 145,000 fewer fans than in '48 at a corresponding date. Cincinnati, Detroit, New York Giants and Philadelphia Phils are others which have fallen 100,000 below last year's figures.

Pittsburgh Pirates show the biggest gain, 180,000 more than last year.

CARDS MISS CHANCE

The St. Louis Cardinals drew a night game crowd of 13,178 in the only regular game played in the majors yesterday, but the fans were doomed to disappointment as Chicago Cubs beat the Redbirds 6 to 4. The defeat prevented the Cards from tying the Brooklyn Dodgers for the league lead. Instead, the Redbirds are now a full game behind the Dodgers.

Johnny Schmitz hung the defeat on St. Louis, but needed help from Walt Dubiel in the seventh.

In an exhibition game last night Joe DiMaggio played the entire nine innings as the New York Yankees defeated the New York Giants 5 to 3.

Making his first appearance of the season the ailing Yankee outfielder popped out on all his four trips to the plate. Of more importance was the announcement that he would be ready to resume active play.

Junior Anglers Compete In Annual Derby Sunday

It will be junior day at Saanich Inlet next Sunday when the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association stages the third annual salmon derby for its junior members.

Meeting to make final plans for the fishfest, directors were informed that Fat Frumento of the Frumento Fishing Tackle Works has come forward and donated majority of the prizes.

Frumento has donated five Calcutta cane rods, a rod complete with reel and line, 12 Tillicum plugs, two cuttyhunk lines, a hand scale for weighing fish and one of the new type glass rods the firm is now putting together.

By adding the anglers' contribution to the pot, the prizes will be worth more than $200.

Junior entries this year, the directors ordered, will be not under 10 years and not over 17 years. Derby is open to boys and girls.

Les Dicks is committee chairman. His helpers are: Dan Thomas, Roy Meston and Walter Lock. Any youngster who has no transportation to the fishing grounds will be picked up in front of the City Hall at 5:15 Sunday morning. Derby starts at 6 and closes at 4.

Hall's and the Anchorage will be the weigh-in stations, the latter to be the scene of the prize presentation. Tickets can be obtained from tackle stores and boatshops.

Eight Victorians In B.C. Golf Trials

Open Battle Looms For Willingdon Team Berths; McElroy Withdraws

The 72-hole Willingdon Cup golf team trials set for Victoria and Vancouver, Friday and Sunday respectively, today became a wide-open fight when it was announced from Vancouver that Walt McElroy had withdrawn from the event.

McElroy, rated as Canada's No. 1 amateur golfer, had been reasonably assured of a place on the defending championship B.C. team until this announcement was made. He withdrew from the final 36 holes of the Vancouver City championship Sunday ostensibly because of a back ailment.

This caused quite a ruckus in mainland golfing circles and may mean that McElroy has forfeited his top berth on the team that will defend its national title at St. John, N.B., next month.

TWO BERTHS OPEN
Apart from the McElroy situation, which no doubt is far from settled, there are still two places definitely open on the team. The other position will in all likelihood go to young Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver who has been sensational in spring tournaments this season. Mawhinney is present Canadian junior champion, a title he will relinquish this year.

First 18 holes of the trials, July 1, will be played at Colwood starting at 9 with the afternoon round scheduled for Uplands at 2.30.

Vancouver's Capilano and Point Grey courses will be the scenes of the second 36 holes Sunday, following which team selection will be made.

Eight Victorians will be among the 21 divoters who have been chosen to try for places on the provincial squad.

PAINTER RATES CHANCE
Heading the local contingent in the cup trials will be city champion Vic Painter, who stands a good chance of making the provincial squad. Painter will be playing on his home course at Colwood in the first 18-hole round and at Uplands where, in his latest competitive match he fired a 69, in the second 18 holes.

Bill McColl and Ted Colgate, also of Colwood, George Bigelow of Victoria Club, Gordon Verley, Don Gowan and Frank Scroggs of Uplands and Jack Clarke of Gorge Vale complete the city representation for the trials.

From Vancouver will come Mawhinney, Doug Bajus, McElroy, Jim Robertson, Jack Ellis, Noel Daniel, Lyle Hurschman, Hugh Morrison, Jack Reynolds, Alex Cunningham, Hans Swinton and Bob Phommmer.

Two from Trail, one possibly being Reg. Stone, are the others seeking places on the squad.

TEAM SELECTION
Aggregate scores of this test, plus consideration of previous tournaments, will be the basis used by the selection committee in choosing the four-man team the night of July 3. One spare will also be added to the team.

The Canadian Amateur opens at St. John, New Brunswick, July 25, with the provincial matches and the junior championship scheduled for July 23. The B.C. team will fly east.

The junior representatives for the province will be decided at the B.C. championships in Vancouver July 7 and 8.

JUNIOR HOPES
City hopes in this event will be John Merriman and Bob Fleming of Gorge Vale. Fleming was invited to compete in the Willingdon Cup trials but declined because of school examinations.

Charles Willing To Defend Title For Hundred Grand

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ezzard Charles, the new heavyweight champion recognized by the National Boxing Association, will fight anyone next summer who can provide a $100,000 guarantee.

That's the word from Charles' co-manager, Jake Mintz. Mintz added the bout would also require approval by Joe Louis and the International Boxing Club. Charles is under exclusive contract to the Louis organization.

Meanwhile, Mintz wants to make the Cincinnati negro's title unanimous—at least in the United States.

The New York State Boxing Commission did not recognize the bout in which Charles took a 15-round decision from Jersey Joe Walcott.

Mintz says he plans to see the New York Commission about holding Charles' first title defense in New York.

"We're waiting now to hear a challenge to meet the winner of the Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold match," Mintz said. Woodcock and Savold battle Sept. 6.

The new champion is back in his home town to play some golf. He got a royal welcome from the citizens who arranged a welcome-home parade.

Charles said he has no definite plans for the immediate future, but he'd like to defend his crown in Cincinnati.

Major Ball Clubs Deny Removal Of New Jersey Teams

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Parke Carroll, manager of Newark Bears, said Monday night that the International Baseball League president, Frank Shaughnessy, "has not been authorized to act as spokesman for the Newark Baseball Club or to represent the club in any other than routine league matters."

Carroll made his statement after a Baltimore sports writer quoted Shaughnessy, who is in Montreal, as saying that he is "shopping" for a city in which to locate the Bears.

Shaughnessy also was quoted by Hugh Trader Jr., Baltimore News-Post baseball reporter, as saying "the entire New Jersey structure" will be changed next year.

Trader said the league president intimated that New York Giants "may relinquish their Jersey City franchise."

As for the Bears, Carroll said "transfer of the Newark baseball franchise has not been considered and has not been discussed by the board of directors of the Newark club since last February."

The New York Yankees, parent team of Newark, have been considering moving the franchise after a poor season at the gate last year. Newark at the moment is in the league cellar, with the only other New Jersey team in the league, Jersey City, occupying fourth place.

HUBBELL ISSUES DENIAL

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—"You'd think we were the only big-league team to recall a player from our farm system," the New York Giants' farm clubs director, Carl Hubbell, said here.

And as far as he knows, Hubbell said, the Giants have no intention of giving up their Jersey City franchise in the International Baseball League.

"The boss (owner Horace Stoneham) hasn't said anything to me about it," Hubbell remarked when informed that a Baltimore News-Post sports writer, Hugh Trader Jr., quoted the International League president, Frank Shaughnessy, as intimating the Giants would give up their Jersey City franchise.

Boxing Course For Victoria Youngsters

To teach boys the fundamentals of boxing George Wilkinson will hold a two-months' course in the Quadra Street boys' hall, starting the week of July 4.

The course will be open to any boy between the ages of 9 and 16.

Idea is to prepare young fighters for the winter program of amateur fight cards.

Any boy interested is asked to contact Wilkinson at E 2554.

Athletics Boot One; Frank Logue Victim

Victoria Athletics booted away another good pitching performance last night at Tacoma as the Tigers scored three runs in the eighth and one in the ninth to squeeze out a 4 to 3 victory over the hapless cellar-dwellers.

Righthander Tobey Tobias was on his way to a 3 to 0 shutout when the roof fell in in the fatal eighth, but it wasn't all the fault of Tobias, nor his relief Frank Logue, as the tying eighth-inning run and the winning marker in the ninth were both unearned.

The trouble started when Tobias walked the first two Tacoma batters in the eighth and Dick Greco followed with a single to score Bob Williams. With two on and nobody out, Logue came in.

Jerry Ballard, attempting to sacrifice, struck out. Then Eddie Barr walked to load the bases. With the infield playing in on the grass, Joe Kaney blooped a single into short left field scoring Jack Warren. Greco, attempting to score on the play, was thrown out at the plate.

BAD THROW
Catcher Bob Day then attempted to pick off Kaney who was heading for second. He threw the ball into the dirt and Barr, who had circled round first on Kaney's single, kept right on coming to score the tying run. Logue retired the side without further trouble but the damage had been done.

The A's had a chance to push across the winning marker in the ninth when Vic Buccola walked to open the inning but he died on base.

Shortstop Frank Matoh booted Al Spaeter's ground ball to give the Tigers a life in their half of the inning. Spaeter moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on Warren's two-base hit.

Logue was charged with the defeat. Vince Lazor went all the way for the Tigers.

Walker Boosts Margin In Box Lacrosse Scoring

Foul Bay's Jackson Walker continues to hold his position on top of the individual scoring race of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse League, and has increased his margin to four points since the last statistics were released. Nine goals and 11 assists give him 20 points. Runner-up Larry Booth of Jokers has nine goals and seven assists, good enough for 16 points.

Gordy Ellis of Jokers is the leading goal scorer with 13 in seven games, while Walker and Norm Coates are the leading play-makers, each with 11 assists.

Booth has served a total of 48 minutes in the sin-bin to hold the dubious honor in this department.

In three games Bill Andrews of Jokers has stopped a percentage of .765 shots on goal, followed by Aln Thompson of Foul Bay, who has appeared in eight games and holds a percentage of .737.

Donnelly's Brilliant 206 Features Cricket

LONDON (Reuters)—A brilliant double century by left-hander Martin Donnelly enabled New Zealand to take a first innings lead of 171 runs against England on the third and last day of their test cricket match.

New Zealand was all out for 484 in the first innings in reply to England's first-innings score of 313 for nine declared. By the lunch interval, England had scored 40 without loss of a wicket in the second innings.

This is the season's second test match between the two teams. The first ended in a draw.

The New Zealand total topped their previous best test score of 469 for nine declared, against England at Lords in 1931. Donnelly's 206 was the highest score by any batsman in tests between the two countries.

Scoring all round the wicket with drives, cuts and pulls, Donnelly got his runs in five hours 55 minutes. He batted without a mistake in a great innings which ended when he was last man out, caught by Len Hutton near the boundary off the bowling of Jack Young.

Leading Hollywood Club Opens Long Stand In Home Park

The Hollywood Stars, still highballing ahead of the field in the Coast League baseball race, are home for a 15-game stand that will carry them past the halfway mark in their fight for the pennant.

The film city club opens a nine-game series tonight with Oakland and then will take on San Francisco in a six-game engagement.

The Oaks, currently in a third-place tie with San Diego, could put a considerable dent in the Hollywood hopes. So far this season the Oaks have won seven of 11 games played with the stars.

And Hollywood is having some casualty trouble. Pitcher Glen Moulder and catcher Mike Sandlock and Jack Paepke are on the casualty list and may be there for a week or so.

BATTLE OF LEFTIES

For the opener it will be a battle of southpaws. Art Schallack goes to the mound for the Stars and Lou Tost for the Oaks.

Two other upper division teams open a series tonight. San Diego travels north to meet the second-place Seattle Rainiers. The Padres are still handicapped by the absence of their heavy-hitting first baseman, Luke Easter, who is in Cleveland for treatment of a knee injury.

Last place Los Angeles opens a series with San Francisco, the seventh-place club. Sacramento goes to Portland for a series.

Ray Robinson Takes Holiday In Training

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight champion Ray Robinson, worried over getting stale, kept out of the ring today while Kid Gavilan, the Cuban challenger, box six rounds in another tune-up for their title bout. The two meet in a 15-rounder in Philadelphia July 11.

Robinson, who has his camp at Pompton Lakes, N.J., weighed 149 pounds—two over the weight limit—and his handlers feared he was shedding weight too fast in the heat.

Gavilan, working out at Parkville, N.Y., said he plans to box every day until a few days before the fight.

Alberta Announces Willingdon Cup Team

CALGARY (CP)—Three Edmonton and one Calgary golfer will make up Alberta's 1949 Willingdon Cup team when it meets teams from other provinces for the coveted trophy at Riverside Golf and Country Club, N.B., July 23.

Leading the team will be Glenn Gray of Edmonton, who automatically qualified by winning the Alberta amateur title.

Vern Mohs and Jim Harper, both of Edmonton and Ron MacWilliams of Calgary, won the other three positions in a 36-hole medal tournament.

Golf Experiences Big Boom In Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuter)—Golf, both as a sport and a business, is booming in Australia.

The game has become so popular since the war that facilities are inadequate. Courses and club waiting lists have never been more crowded.

In Sydney, golf enthusiasts are forming "dawn patrols" to get a week-end game on crowded public courses.

Eager would-be players queue up regularly at dawn at almost all public courses near the city. Even at more distant mountain tourist resorts, early musters are becoming common.

The supervisor at the Woolahra course, one of Sydney's nearest and most popular, said recently: "I get to the course these mornings about 6. I would say it's too dark to even see to hit the ball, but when I arrive there are usually a few enthusiastic couples already on their way to the first and second greens. And others are waiting."

DELAY FATAL

At St. Michael's, where players can book tee-off times from dawn, a rule has been introduced that players delaying their start because of rain or fog lose their place on the tee. A few years ago, this delay would not have mattered because of the few players.

A 10-minute hold-up at dawn now puts the whole day's program behind schedule.

With these early starts, records are being established for the number of rounds played on each course. Last year 74,000 rounds were played at Moore Park and a similar number at Woolahra. Bexley course had a recent one-day record of 478 players.

Although members of private clubs are not faced with such overcrowding, they also are finding their game is not as leisurely and comfortable as in prewar days.

Increases in entrance and subscription fees have had little effect on the waiting lists of private clubs. In fact, as one name drops off the waiting list, there are a dozen others to take its place.

This boom in the golf business has meant bigger money for the professionals and sporting goods firms. Professionals are booked weeks ahead for lessons. Some begin teaching before breakfast and continue till dusk.

It's the New Plymouth "Suburban"

Pictured is the brand-new "Suburban" just announced by Plymouth. President K. T. Keller of the Chrysler Corporation has long maintained that when a person buys a car he wants practical, useful transportation as well as fancy styling. So Mr. Keller personally supervised the planning of the Suburban, to make sure it came as close as possible to his idea of a useful family automobile. The result is certainly quite different from anything else now on the market. Its station-wagon lines are familiar enough to motorists, but the real or imitation wood finish is missing. This simplifies maintenance problems and keeps costs down. The car is built around the new Plymouth 111-inch wheelbase chassis, with beefed-up rear springs to give it load-carrying ability. Power plant, steering gear, front-end suspension are all standard Plymouth. See this great, entirely new Plymouth at Olson Motors Ltd., 865 Yates St., Victoria.

BLOWOUTS STRIKE WITHOUT WARNING!

No tire is blowout-proof!
BUT GOOD YEAR LIFE GUARDS MAKE BLOWOUTS HARMLESS

Because of the terrific punishment they must take, not even the best tires are blowout proof. What will happen to you if you have a blowout tomorrow? In that split second will you be ready to wheel-fight your way to safety? Will you swerve out of control into the ditch, or crash into oncoming traffic? Or will you bring your car to a safe, gradual stop—like any other motorist with LifeGuards in his tires?

LifeGuards give far more protection than mere "puncture-sealing" devices. They actually make a blowout harmless after it happens—and it can happen to any tire, any place, any time.

Remember, too, that LifeGuards are the most economical tubes you can use—frequently outlast 3 or 4 sets of tires. In sizes available, they fit any make of tire—new or now in service. They're easy to get—see your Goodyear dealer! You can't get better protection to save your life!

Liberal trade-in on your present tubes!

1. "Travelling along a mountain road at a good speed," writes a motorist of Nelson, B.C., "I struck a rock, causing a blowout at the very edge of a sheer drop!"

2. Here's what COULD have happened! A vain fight with the wheel... then a plunge over the 125-foot drop at the road edge!

3. Here's what ACTUALLY happened! In the driver's own words: "I was able to bring my car to a safe stop, thanks to LifeGuard."

HOW LIFE GUARD SAFETY TUBES CAN SAVE YOUR LIFE

ORDINARY TUBES	LIFE GUARD SAFETY TUBES
1. Ordinary tubes have but one air chamber. When flat, frequently tire blows, tube blowing one out of control.	2. The LifeGuard 4. Reserve of air Tube has two air in strong cord fabric-chamber. In case of inner chamber of blowout, only supports car long outer chamber enough for a safe, gradual stop.

Clever Dancers Perform In Spirited Wynne Shaw Revue

A capacity audience at Royal Theatre last night journeyed briefly to the world of make-believe in the dance sequence, "Down at the Candy Crossroads," where candy trees grew, and elves offered trainful of sweets and fairies danced in a background of candy canes. This was the opening number of the Wynne Shaw dance revue with 50 of the smallest students taking part.

Jeanie Burns, completely enraptured herself to the audience, first tapping on the stairs and later as a Christmas doll. Delightful, too, in this colorful number was the performance of Jack Dixon and Nora Trimble who rolled out on to the stage as little candy balls and performed feats of gymnastics. Candy tappers were Gayle McCorquodale, Elaine McBride, June Oakley, Wendy Sanderson, Cynthia Scott and Elaine Gow. The Kiddies Polka Dot Gallop featured Jacqueline Dove, Mona McConnell, Lorraine Stoyel, Linda Johns, Lynnette Faulks, Patricia Huxtable, Anne Rose, Pamela Elliott, Maureen Carey, Barbara Mattie, Lynne Powell, Linden Louis, Elaine Gow, Mary Epilbury, Gail Byers, Suzanne McElmoye, and Elizabeth and Elenor Mahaffey.

COME TO THE FAIR

For the second spectacular number, the scene was set in a village market in "Come to the Fair" (by special request) where merry maids, Patsy Sparks, Marilyn Ivings, Beverly Luff and Corrine Moore, interrupted their scrubbing chores to dance one of the liveliest routines of the show. Beverly Ivings as the flower seller and Victor Duret as the vegetable man, and Heather Duncan and Marilyn McElmoye in their "quarrel," carried off their comic ballet with a maturity beyond their years. Sheila McDonald was a wobbly-legged calf and Brenda Lister the keeper of the saucy little lambs, Diane Bassett, Claudia Carey, Judy Demers, Sheri Smith, Lois Gow, Diane Robbins, Brenda Buller, Sharon Williams.

As duo teams Rae Evenden and Bill McGrath displayed perfect co-ordination of thought, as did Beverly Ivings in her solo performance in Valse Fantastique.

Tapping their way to stardom were Thelma Stevenson, Elenor Straith, Patsy Dentith as Chinatown capers; Marjorie Trimble, Nora Trimble, Helen Sinclair and Jack Dixon, in a Summer Days Tap; little Kathleen Myers and Arlen Atkinson doing Tiny Taps.

Twinkle, Twinkle Little "Stars" was a symphony in pink. Petite Marilyn McElmoye was soloist.

RUSSIAN DANCES

In a swirl of flowered cotton skirts, flying babushkas, a suite of three Russian dances included Dale Spilsbury, Carol Pent, Jeanette Jubb, Joan Bloomfield, Deborah Mathews, Marjorie Pepper, Sharon and Barrie Joan Hanslip, Margaret Stephen, Geraldine Wilkinson, Paddy Moulds, Helen Sinclair, Myra Gallagher, Myriel Lawson, Sheila Goodmanson, Nora Trimble, Vivian Sanguinetti, Judith Selwood, Winifred Lockhead, Marilyn Wells, Vivian Briggs, Wendy Sanderson, Beverly Thomas, Karen Child, Beverly Hughes, Heather Duncan, Jeannie Burns, June Oakley, Jocelyn Young, Nancy Clark, Jane Huxtable, Marilyn McElmoye, Gail Beveridge, Anita Beattie, Joan Fisher, Marion Jones, Joy Gillam, Anne Whittington, Patsy Dentith, Elspeth Kendall and Bill McGrath.

Connie Sigrist, stage manager, shares honors with Dolly Jones for originality of scenery and Mrs. M. Barlett, in her capacity as the piano accompanist contributed to the outstanding success of the show.

Lands 47½-Pound Salmon In Saanich Inlet Waters

A gold-button winning 47½-pound spring salmon, the largest caught in Saanich Inlet waters in several years, was reeled in by Ken Bodington, Brentwood, at 5 Monday evening.

It was lured in the waters between the Stone House and the Deep Hole. Bodington was using a lucky-louie plug, 450 feet wire line and a perfect planer.

The ardent fisherman weighed the fish in on the scales at Harry Gilbert's boathouse at the Brentwood Bay village and has put in his claim for a gold button from the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. Unless this weight is beaten, Bodington will win the laurels of the 1949 diamond champion.

Pete J. Hill, 824 Ellery Street, won these honors in 1948 with a specimen that weighed 40 pounds.

Bodington, one of the most consistent sport fishermen seeking inlet salmon, previously won his bronze button. He now will seek a specimen weighing between 30 and under 40 pounds to win his silver button, a feat that has not been accomplished by a V.S.I.A.A. member in many years.

Veteran, Retired Postal Employee, Dies Here At 66

Frederick A. Goddard, Royal Navy veteran and employee of the Victoria Post Office for 30 years prior to his retirement, died Monday at his residence, Cathay Apartments, in his 67th year.

Mr. Goddard was an enthusiastic gardener and his landscaping on the grounds of the Cathay, with which he was connected, drew many admiring comments from tourists.

A native of Blackwater, Hampshire, Eng., Mr. Goddard was with the Royal Navy for 18 years. He was overseas from 1914 to 1918 with the Canadian Army, serving in the military post office.

He retired from the Victoria Post Office in 1943. Besides his wife, Mercy Goddard, at the family residence, he leaves one son, Arthur W. F. Goddard; one daughter, Mrs. Phyllis G. Hunt; and a grandson, David, all of Victoria. A brother, Lewis, resides at Keating and there are several brothers and sisters in Ontario and England.

Rev. S. J. Wickens will conduct services in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel Wednesday morning at 11. Cremation will follow.

'Cat' Burglar Raids, Robs Home On West Saanich Road

Mr. and Mrs. George Baker and members of their family today were among the "believers" that the clever "cat" burglar is no myth.

During the night the pussy-footed prowler was a visitor at their "Forest Green" West Saanich Road residence and escaped with Miss Kathleen Baker's purse, containing $50 and valuable documents, and the battery out of her car.

Saanich police in charge of Sgt. Cecil Pearce today were searching the area for the purse. It is expected the burglar threw it away after rifling it of its money contents.

Miss Baker certainly hopes he did, anyway, as the purse contains documents that are very valuable to her. She is due to leave for Glasgow, Scotland, in the first week in July under the Empire teachers' exchange program. The purse contained letters to people she will contact, and papers vital in the exchange program.

The "cat" walked in through an unlocked back door sometime after 12.30, when Miss Baker retired. It is believed that he saw her handling the purse.

There were four occupants of the house and the burglar entered and left without disturbing any.

one. First knowledge the Baker family had of the entry was when they awoke this morning and found the back door wide open and the purse gone.

Before leaving, for some unknown reason, the burglar took the battery out of Miss Baker's Austin car.

For more than two years now the "cat" has been a major headache of police of Greater Victoria.

The quiet-operating burglar has entered many homes, mostly in Oak Bay, in the dead of night and committed robberies without disturbing occupants.

Chief Of Police, Knights Visit City

Visiting the city on one of the many they have made since 1929 are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Milne of Saskatoon, the former probably better-known to many as Chief of Police Milne of the prairie city.

Chief Milne, who has been on the Saskatoon force since 1909, a year after he came to this country from Scotland, says his wife and himself spend most of their holidays here visiting the many prairie people now residents in Victoria.

Other visitors to Victoria Monday were approximately 200 Mystic Knights of the Enchanted Realm who stopped off for a few hours' sightseeing.

The Knights, all wearing fezzes, come from "grotes" all over the United States. They have been attending the national convention of their group at Long Beach, California.

A fine of $40 was imposed against Percy W. Brown, 706 Blanshard Street, in city police court today by Magistrate H. C. Hall. Brown was found guilty on a charge of careless driving on Saturday night at Yates and Government Streets. Evidence was that accused's car sideswiped a parked car on the south side of Yates at the west corner. Parked car was owned by James Bridle, 1210 Monterey Avenue. Magistrate Hall ordered Brown's license suspended. Length of suspension will be up to the motor vehicle superintendent.

Gives Grim Warning

The gravestone in the background of picture above might well be a grim reminder of the fate of some drivers on the highways these days.

Raymond Jubb, 15, of 1140 Dallas Road, is in Jubilee Hospital with an injured left arm when the car he was driving crashed into and split this telephone pole standing on the northwest section of the Ross Bay Cemetery around 10.40 Monday night.

Rainfall Benefits Berries Growers Say More Needed

Nearly one-quarter of an inch of rain fell intermittently on Victoria and vicinity Monday afternoon and during the early hours of this morning to the relief of berry-growers.

In the outlying area of Saanich, the rainfall was thought to be considerably heavier. It came as a welcome relief to Saanich fruit growers, who have been concerned over their berry crops.

J. J. Young, manager of the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, said the rain had helped, but that more was needed to bring on the ripening of raspberries and logans.

Strawberries, Mr. Young said, would be completely over in the next few days. Raspberries are coming along and will be on the market for about three weeks. A fair crop is expected.

Loganberries will follow the raspberries. They will not be as plentiful this year as last since many bushes were badly injured by the severe winter.

60 PER CENT CROP

Mr. Young estimates this year's logan crop will be about 60 per cent of other years.

Gyro 'Hole-In-One' Contest Proceeds For Cinder Track

Annual Gyro Club "Hole-in-one" contest, from which all proceeds have gone to aid the Queen Alexandra Solarium in past years, will serve a double purpose this year, it was announced by Ken Davis, general chairman of the project at a luncheon at the Empress Hotel Monday.

Contest will be held at the Central Junior High School grounds on Aug. 3, 4, 5 and 6. Club members hope to raise at least $8,000, of which $3,500 will go directly towards the financing of a quarter-mile cinder track at the Victoria High School Memorial Stadium. Remainder will go towards the Solarium and other Gyro projects.

It was announced that, at the annual general meeting of the Gilbert and Sullivan Society, the production "Pirates of Penzance" was suggested as next season's performance. Club members unanimously voted to sponsor the project again next year and endorsed the choice of production.

Funeral Notice

Members of the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.I., and the Women's Auxiliary are requested to attend the funeral of our late comrade S. Stuart Hutchinson, at McCall Home, Funeral Chapel on Wednesday, June 29th, 1949, at 2 o'clock.

C. A. GILL, Secretary.

A passenger, Irita Ford, 831

Vernon Street, escaped injuries.

According to city police attending the scene, Jubb was proceeding west on Fairfield Road when the crash occurred. After the impact the car continued on for nearly 115 feet, over graveyard property, finally overturning. Police said most of the $500 damage was done to the left side and rear of the car.

In the city, the rain commenced at 2 in the afternoon and let up shortly after five. It started again at midnight and continued through to 3 this morning.

According to William Burton, superintendent at the Gonzales observatory, the recorded rainfall was .23 inch.

The previous rainfall on the city was recorded last Saturday. It was light, and measured only .13 inch. Only other rainfall of the month came on the eighth day, when .26 inch was experienced.

Two Additional Shows To Be Given Talent Quest

There is apparently lots of talent in Victoria coming forward to try to win a free trip to Hollywood.

Lyle Kline of the Odeon Theatre here announced today that there will be an additional two programs in Roy Gordon's Daily Times Talent Quest. Originally, two halves of four weekly programs apiece were scheduled, but it has been decided to declare winners for each half, then hold two more talent nights at the Odeon.

Tonight, the final round of the second half will go on the Odeon stage at 8:30.

One week from tonight, the winners of the four second-half rounds will perform for the championship of their section. July 12 and 19 there will be more regular shows, with the winners of each entering the semifinals July 26.

Aug. 2, the three winners—Johnny Page, who won the first half, the top entertainer in the second half—to be decided next Tuesday—and the winner of the extra session—will meet for the championship.

TONIGHT'S SHOW
In tonight's show, contestants include singers Doreen Kohut, 14, and Jack Holland, and Doreen Pearson and Audrey Latham, tap dance team. Six-year-old May Guthrie will present a can-can dance.

Guest artists lined up by Roy Gordon will be Jim Murdoch, army gunner who sings popular ballads; an acrobatic dancing trio from Florence Clough's dancing academy, plus two acts from Seattle, brought specially to this side of the line by Mr. Gordon for the Daily Times Talent Quest.

PLAZA THEATRE
"East Lynne," probably one of the greatest tear-jerkers ever brought to stage or screen is, as seen in "Gaslight Follies," a sensational evening or afternoon of hilarious fun, now going on at the Plaza Theatre, and provides one of the funniest highlights of the show.

SUCCESS DEPENDS ON FAILURE TO COVER

One of the real personalities of tournament bridge is J. G. Ripstra, of Wichita, Kan. "Rip" as he is better known to the players, attends tournaments purely for the fun of it. He loves to bid, and when he reached six hearts on today's hand and the dummy went down, the kibitzers felt a little quiver of apprehension.

"Rip" played the jack of spades from dummy on the opening lead, and when it held, he immediately knocked out the ace of hearts. East returned the jack of clubs, declarer went up with the ace, picked up the trumps, then led the seven of diamonds. He did not bother with a finesse, but went right up with the ace in dummy and led back the queen of diamonds. East did not cover, so declarer discarded a club. When the queen held the trick, "Rip's" hearty laugh indicated that there was no more to it.

When the hand was over, I asked "Rip" if he had expected to make the hand when the dummy went down. "I certainly did," he replied. "I'm not a pessimist. Can't the cards be where you want them once in a while? And suppose they are wrong, does it really matter? I have only gone down on a tournament hand." Maybe "Rip" has an idea there.

WICKED WOMEN was so expertly demonstrated in "Double Indemnity," is said to be even more hateful as Martha Ivers, the production of "The Strange Love of Martha Ivers," now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

The film co-stars Miss Stanwyck with Van Heflin and Elizabeth Scott.

All-Male Cast In 'Command Decision'

"Command Decision," the William Wister Haines play which scored an enormous success on Broadway, now comes to the Royal screen in a gripping M-G-M film version. It is a motion picture studded by some of the finest performances of the year by a brilliant all-male cast topped by Clark Gable, Walter Pidgeon, Van Johnson, Brian Donlevy, John Hodiak, Charles Bickford, and Edward Arnold.

The story tells of an intrepid air force general who has to face the momentous decision of sacrificing the future of daylight bombing for the larger end of saving the lives of millions of American flyers.

Don DeFore, who appears in Warner Bros. Technicolor musical romance, "One Sunday Afternoon," currently at the Atlas Theatre, takes the stand in favor

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

Only One Canadian Boat In Olympia-Juneau Race

Officials of the International Power Boat Association, Inc., today reported there will be at least 14 cruisers in the predicted log grind from Olympia to Juneau next month and that at least 100 craft will be involved in the three-legged competition. To date the only Canadian entry for the 929-mile race is the Aileen, skippered by George H. Patton of Victoria, who will be flying the colors of the Nanaimo Yacht Club. Race starts on July 8.

The entry list shows two craft from Victoria Yacht Club entered in the international cruiser race from Olympia to Nanaimo. They are Dawn, owned by H. W. Miller and the Phyllis F., owned by J. E. Mathews. F. A. Harvey's Flying Flapjack of Nanaimo will also be in the first leg competition.

Actually the program is three races in one—Olympia-Nanaimo, Nanaimo-Prince Rupert and from Prince Rupert to Juneau—with separate prizes for each leg; the feature, of course, being the one in which skippers will be trying for the long-race laurels, an event classed as the longest power boat race of its type in the world.

Only other Canadian cruiser so far entered in the Olympia-Nanaimo run is the Gleniffer, owned by Kenneth F. R. Mair of Royal Vancouver Yacht Club.

Bulk of the entries in the meet are from the State of Washington yacht clubs: Tacoma, Queen City, Bremerton, Seattle, Everett and Olympia.

J. V. Burford of Juneau will race the Prince Rupert to Juneau leg only.

Celebrations Mark Goethe Anniversary

ASPEN, Colo. AP)—Outstanding scholars gathered here over the week-end to pay tribute to the memory of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, Europe's genius of thought.

The 200th anniversary of Goethe's birth will be marked by thousands of words during the next three weeks. The celebration will last until July 16.

Aspen is a little settlement tucked away in the western Colorado Mountains.

Of the many eminent men coming here probably the most distinguished is a bushy-moustached Goethe scholar, Albert Schweitzer, making his first trip to the United States.

He will lecture on "Goethe: His Personality and His Work," July 6 and again July 8. Dr. Schweitzer speaks no English and will lecture in French and German.

This three-week festival, involving big names in the world of letters and music, will begin rather unobtrusively tomorrow night. Colorado's governor, Lee Knous, will make a welcoming speech and violinist Erica Morini will give a recital.

Dimitri Mitropoulos will lead the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra in several concerts, the first on Friday night.

B.C. 'Boys' Town' Being Considered

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia may have a "boys' town" similar to that established in Omaha by the late Father Edward Flanagan.

A committee to look into the possibility of establishing a town on the Agassiz-Halg Highway, about 70 miles east of Vancouver, was set up by the Fraternal Order of Eagles at their provincial convention.

Joseph Wright of Victoria was elected president of the provincial aerie at the three-day convention ended Sunday. Ralph Goodman of Vancouver was named vice-president and E. D. Kerslake of North Vancouver, chaplain.

Other officers include: Bert R. Work of Nanaimo, junior past president; Tom Anderson, Nanaimo, conductor; George Goodenough, Victoria, secretary, and

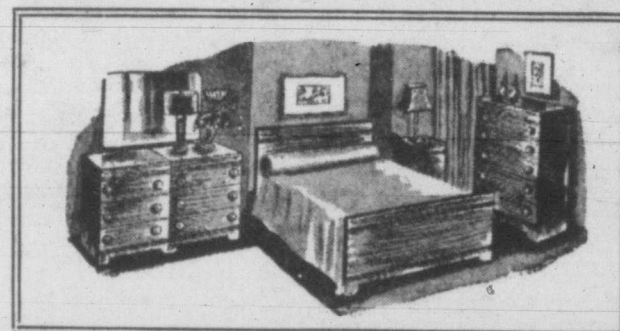

J. A. Knight, Ladysmith, treasurer.

James B. Washington of Parksville was chosen Canadian representative to attend the Grand Aerie convention at Detroit in August.

POWER CHAIN SAW

Hollywood Gets Over Its 'Depression Blues'

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Things are humming like old times around the film factories; 48 movies are in the works; and—if this keeps up—producers will have to stop singing the "Depression Blues."

It's beginning to look as if that "spring boom" they've been ballyhooing finally got here. Three months late, maybe, but welcome, just the same.

Stars' limousines and workers' jalopies whizzed through studio gates almost as they did in the lush days of '46 and '47, when Hollywood was grinding out 48 epics at once.

Nobody's bank account is quite as fat as it was then and movie workers are still lining up for their unemployment relief cheques. But the line's a little shorter these days and studios are beginning to perk up from their two-year doldrums.

RECORD PRODUCTION YEAR
And from the plushy front offices of every studio comes a unified chorus: "The depression's over—1949 will be a record-breaking production year."

Not only are four dozen epics shooting in 12 studios around town, 23 more are ready to go in the next three weeks.

Screen Actors' Guild records show employment has picked up, but not, a statistician said, to the peak it hit in the post-war boom.

"They may be making as many pictures now," he explained, "but they're using fewer actors and actresses and they're making 'em quicker."

Studio bosses deny this and point to "On The Town," now going well into its third month at M-G-M. That's no "quickie," they say, and neither is 20th Century-Fox's "Black Rose," also in its third month in North Africa, or RKO's "After The Storm," which Ingrid Bergman and Robert Rossellini have been fooling around with for 60 days now.

PATHETIC SLASHING

Some of the expense slashing in the depression was almost pathetic. RKO put an actress in a wheelchair and bought costumes only for her upper half.

One director, who'd planned a party scene with pretty extras ($16.50 each per day), switched to a masquerade, hired plain

Joan Leslie Starts First Major Movie Work In Three Years

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Joan Leslie, a girl who knew what she wanted, has come into possession of it.

She began work this week in girls ($250 a day), and handed out masks.

Columbia saved one salary by changing "Three Blondes And A Redhead" to "Two Blondes," etc. Twentieth Century-Fox decided "A Letter To Five Wives" was too expensive, took out Gene Tierney and called it "A Letter To Four Wives."

The budget was still too high. So they took out Anne Baxter and made "Three Wives."

R.K.O.'s "Bed of Roses," her first major studio job in three years. Thus ended a fight for freedom which took her almost to the United States Supreme Court.

This story begins about 10 years ago. Born Joan Brodell in Detroit, the little girl showed acting ability at an early age. She looked mature beyond her years and at 15 she was starring with Gary Cooper in "Sgt. York" at 16 with Jimmy Cagney in "Yankee Doodle Dandy." The roles won Academy awards for both actors.

UTILITY GAL

Joan became the utility gal at Warners. She worked hard and often. But as she approached 21, she became dissatisfied. She felt she was being typed as a scatter-brained bobbysoxer. She claimed the studio reduced her from star to featured billing in "Two Guys From Milwaukee."

When she came of age, Joan issued a declaration of independence. She claimed that as an adult she could end any contract made for her as a minor.

She won her case in two lower courts, but was reversed in the state Supreme Court. She took it to the U.S. Supreme Court, which decided not to review the case. Finally, Warners decided to release her.

"I learned a lot in those three years," she says, "about patience, understanding—and law."

"It hasn't been easy. Warners sent letters to all studios saying they could not hire me, and those letters still have an effect, although the case is over."

DID BENEFITS

"Furthermore, I couldn't work for pay on the stage or radio. So I managed to keep busy by doing benefits, raising money for church buildings and doing free radio and television appearances."

She also did two films at Eagle-Lion. "Fortunately, each of them paid me more than I earned in a year at Warners, so that helped out," she said.

However, she still hasn't paid all her legal fees; the R.K.O. film will aid toward that.

Joan is happy about her current job, which is a meaty acting chore, "A Far Cry From Janie." She has plans for her own independent production and may sign with other major studios—but never again with an exclusive contract.

Those three years also taught her that.

Yells: 'Smells'

Judith Coplon, who concluded her cross-examination in her espionage trial in Washington, got a little peeved. "This case is so fishy it smells to high-heaven," she screamed. She once again protested that she was not, and never had been a Communist. Trial is expected to go to jury Wednesday afternoon.

Report Norbert Fired

Reports were circulated in Victoria today that Ted Norbert is about to be given his walking orders as playing manager of the Victoria Athletics and that Earl Bolyard of Richmond, West Virginia, will be his replacement.

The reports were to the effect that Norbert's release has been ordered by officials of the New York Yankees, parent organization of the local team.

It is said the Yanks are dissatisfied with the way Norbert has been handling the club this season.

(The club has been a disappointment to Victoria fans this year, having a record so far of 25 wins and 43 losses.)

PATTERSON AWAY
Reg Patterson, business manager of the Athletics, was known to have left the city this afternoon for Tacoma. It was presumed by some that he is on his way to meet Bolyard.

James Neely, a director of the club, was the only official available for comment on the rumored change.

Mr. Neely when asked about the report said: "That cannot be confirmed or denied at the moment."

When pressed to tell what he knew of the matter, he said: "I wouldn't like to say."

J. Y. Johnson, president of the club, is said to be in Columbus, Ohio.

Crash Causes Death

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—One man is dead and two others are in hospital with injuries as a result of a traffic collision near Haney, B.C.

George Penstock of Whistler, B.C., died in hospital four hours after suffering a fracture of the skull in the collision between an automobile and a truck.

RUSTY RILEY

Narrow Escape

You're bowling along, driving a big truck loaded chock full of cases of dynamite and cans of nitroglycerin and you come to a railroad crossing. A speeding train hits the crossing at the same instant. Wham! In this accident near Tiffin, Ohio, the truck's deadly cargo was scattered over the ground but by some miracle nothing exploded. The driver, Clifford Higgins of Chicago, escaped with a bruised knee.

Liberals, C.C.F. Both Claim Seat At Regina

REGINA (CP)—Outcome of the election in Regina City was completely in doubt today with both Liberal and C.C.F. candidates claiming victory on the basis of two unofficial counts of the ballots.

According to figures compiled by Liberal committee rooms, Dr. E. A. McCusker was the apparent winner with a total of 14,361 votes against 14,311 for his nearest opponent, John Probe, C.C.F.

C.C.F. committee rooms meanwhile compiled a different set of figures which gave Probe 14,362 votes against 14,359 for Dr. McCusker.

In the one case, Dr. McCusker apparently won by 30 votes and in the other, Mr. Probe claimed the spoils by a margin of 12.

Returning officer, H. D. MacPherson, was unable to clarify the situation. He had no totals to announce today because 13 of his deputies locked their returns inside the ballot boxes which they were not supposed to do.

The result of the election in Regina will therefore remain in doubt until next Monday when the official count is made by the returning officer. By that time also, the returns of the soldier vote will be in and these must be added to the totals of Monday.

CLOSE AT BURNABY
VANCOUVER (CP)—A two-way see-saw in the Burnaby-Richmond constituency today saw Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, C.C.F., and Tom Goode, Liberal, separated by a scant 22-vote margin.

Present standings, with only two small polls to be counted, the standings are:

Ferguson, P.C., 6,531; Goode, L., 13,566; McCuen, Lab-P., 1,647; Steeves, C.C.F., 13,544.

Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., and Gardner Mulloy of Miami, the top-seeded American pair, scored a 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, 10-8 win over the British Davis Cup doubles team of Tony Mottram and Geoff Paish.

Mrs. Helen Ribbany of Boston, land, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

500,000 Railway Workers In Britain To Call Slowdown

LONDON (UP)—Delegates of 500,000 workers on the nationalized British railways decided tonight to call what amounts to a slowdown strike starting next Sunday at midnight.

The decision was reached at an emergency conference after wage demands were rejected. It meant the employees would not work a minute over their stipulated 44 hours a week, and would abide strictly by the letter of their rules.

The National Union of Railwaymen had, negotiated for months with the government's railway administration for a raise of $2 a week for all categories of railway workers.

Thousands of men have been working overtime to relieve the congestion of freight and passenger traffic.

B.C. Miner Held For Trial At Juneau

JUNEAU, Alaska (BUP)—A British Columbia miner is being held by the U.S. marshal's office in Alaska today on a charge of assaulting a schoolteacher with a hatchet.

Authorities said Kenneth Bayers, employee of the Taku Polaris Mining Company, as assaulted Ralph White, who was sleeping in a cabin at Taku Lodge.

Bayers moved to Tesequah from Vancouver about six weeks ago. He is being held in lieu of $3,000 bail. Bayers was brought to Juneau in a special Alaska Coastal Airlines plane after Wright had filed the complaint.

Wright operated a tourist information service for the Juneau Chamber of Commerce.

Troops Unload Food In Paris Strike

PARIS (UP)—Troops were called out to unload foodstuffs for Les Halles, the main Paris market, today after truckers and other workers went on strike for higher wages.

The troops were sent to the Gare de Bercy, food distribution centre on the edge of the city, to unload 300 freight cars of perishable produce.

Nation's Security At Stake

WASHINGTON (UP)—U.S. Defence Secretary Louis Johnson said today that "the security of the nation cannot be adequately protected" unless Congress gives him more power.

He urged the House Armed Services Committee to approve a Senate-passed bill which would increase his authority to control the army, navy and air force and enforce their unification.

He told the committee that:

1. Reports he plans to destroy the individuality of the services are lies.

2. World conditions make it necessary for this country from now on to keep a permanent military force of more than 1,500,000 men.

Committee chairman Carl Vinson, D. Ga., and some other members are cool to the new bill. But Johnson, in an effort to get the committee to act on it, asserted:

"The security of the nation cannot be adequately protected unless this legislation is enacted."

Russ Guards Seize German Power Plant

BERLIN (AP)—Russian guards today seized power plant machinery sent from western Germany to western Berlin and precipitated a new row among the occupation powers.

The incident was disclosed by U.S. authorities. It came a short time after Berlin's rail workers went back to work peacefully ending a 38-day strike for which the German taxpayer will foot a bill estimated at about 20,000,000 marks ($6,000,000).

U.S. authorities said they had joined British authorities in a protest concerning the power plant machinery. The protest was delivered directly to the Soviet military government headquarters.

A spokesman said the Soviet action was in direct violation of the blockade-lifting agreement. The power station parts are vital to Berlin, which suffered throughout the Russian blockade for lack of electric current because the main stations are in Soviet-occupied territory.

Troops Unload Food In Paris Strike

PARIS (UP)—Troops were called out to unload foodstuffs for Les Halles, the main Paris market, today after truckers and other workers went on strike for higher wages.

The troops were sent to the Gare de Bercy, food distribution centre on the edge of the city, to unload 300 freight cars of perishable produce.

Polling-Day Mishaps Kill 8 In Ontario

TORONTO (BUP)—Election day accidents took at least eight lives in Ontario, police reported today.

Three persons were drowned, two died in an airplane crash and another was killed in a level-crossing accident.

An R.C.A.F. Harvard training plane plunged into a clump of woods near Listowel, Ont., killing Sqdn. Ldr. J. R. Thompson and his brother, Dr. W. Ross Thompson, a veterinary surgeon.

FOUR STAR FINAL

Victoria Seaman Reportedly Drowned Off California

Russell Lloyd, 207 Quebec Street, 24-year-old fireman aboard Ss. Eastwave, was lost overboard from a launch while traveling between shore and ship off Carmel Island, Calif., it was learned today.

According to officials of the Seafarers' International Union here, the accident occurred on the night of June 24. Lloyd had been sent, along with other members of the crew from Victoria and Vancouver, to San Francisco to join the ship. The vessel is owned by the Eastboard Navigation Company, Toronto.

Blames Agitators In London Strike

LONDON (CP)—Labor Minister George Isaacs today blamed Communist agitators for the London area dock strike which has tied up some shipping in this bustling port.

He said in a statement in the House of Commons that 11 food ships are held up but that the government will not permit food to be wasted.
